Coin Law Committee Appointed

A committee to study a revision of federal laws and regulations in regard to coins has been named by Admiral Oscar H. Dodson, (U.S.N. Ret.) president of the American Numismatic Association.

Dr. J. Hewitt Judd, Omaha, Neb., was appointed by Dodson to serve as chairman of the committee.

Ten numismatists, all members of the A.N.A., have agreed to serve on this committee. First meeting is tentatively set during the Atlanta convention, August 16 to 19.

"We are just getting organized," said Dr. Judd, "but we are going to try to protect collectors by getting some clarification of the rulings on coins."

Author of a standard work on patterns, trial, and experimental pieces (some of the coins in question), Dr. Judd is chairman of the Department of Ophthalmology at the University of Nebraska's College of Medicine.

These committee members have sent letters of acceptance to President Dodson:

James C. Wobensmith, lawyer, Philadelphia, Pa.; Harry Lessin, lawyer, Norwalk, Conn.; John S. Hill, lawyer, Temple, Texas; Max Schwartz, lawyer, New York, N. Y.; Ellis Edlowitz, lawyer, Washington, D. C.

John Pittman, chemical engineer, Rochester, N. Y.; Harold Klein, banker, Hinsdale, Ill.; Herbert Bergen, geologist, Fullerton, Calif.; William Phillpott, banker, Dallas, Texas; and John J. Ford Jr., dealer, New York, N. Y.

Since Adm. Dodson's term as president of the A.N.A. expires with the Atlanta convention, president-elect C. C. Shroyer has indicated he will reappoint the full committee with committee chairman Judd's approval.

Louis Reagan, Wichita, Kan., A.N.A. general secretary and Glenn B. Smedley, Oak Park, Ill., former A.N.A. first vice president, will serve as ex officio members of the committee.

In the letter to the committee members, President Dodson stated:

"The committee will be requested to recommend rewording of (Continued on Page 31)

Farran Zerbe Award Goes To Dr. John F. Lhotka Jr.

The 1961 Farran Zerbe Award

Oklahoman Specialist In Ancient, Medieval Coinage

Dr. John F. Lhotka Jr., of Oklahoma City, Okla., a man with high professional and numismatic stature — and equally great modesty — has been named to receive the American Numismatic Association's highest honor — the 1961 Farran Zerbe Memorial award.

The 40-year-old associate professor at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center, joins nine of his fellow numismatists as recipient of the recognition for his distinguished service to the science of numismatics.

The award was established in 1951 as a memorial to Farran Zerbe, a past president and one of the all-time greats of the hobby.

Other recipients of the Zerbe award are M. Vernon Sheldon, Mrs. Shepard Pond, Joseph Moss, Lewis M. Reagan, J. Hewitt Judd, Richard S. Yeoman, Louis S. Werner, Burton H. Saxton and Glenn B. Smedley.

Dr. Lhotka is a collector of ancient and medieval coins and is considered an authority on the coinage of the Byzantium. He holds most of the medals and awards sponsored by the American Numismatic Association, and has authored several papers on the various coinages of the periods in which he is interested.

He is a life member of the American Numismatic Association, a fellow of the Royal Numismatic Society, a member of the American Numismatic Society and a member and past president of the Oklahoma City, Okla., Coin Club.

Dr. Lhotka is a native of Butte, Montana, born there May 13, 1921. He was educated at Montana State University and Northwestern University where he served on the faculty. He was a member of the house staff of Minneapolis General Hospital and accepted the position as associate professor of anatomy at the University of Oklahoma in 1951, the same year as his marriage. Dr. Lhotka's specialty is histochemistry with his complete medical background and fields of work listed in American Men of Science in Volume 2 of the biological sciences.

Lewis Reagan Escapes From Hotel Blaze

Lewis M. Reagan, general secretary of the American Numismatic Association, had a narrow escape in Cleveland July 24 when firemen rescued him from the smoky, blazing ninth floor of the Hotel Sheraton-Cleveland in Cleveland, Ohio.

Reagan, who had attended the North East Coin Club convention in Cleveland earlier, had remained in the city to confer with officials regarding the 1964 A.N.A. convention.

According to hotel personnel the fire broke out about 6:30 a.m. in Room 9038, occupied by Leo W. Ulmer, Cleveland attorney.

The flames were confined to one room, but parts of the ninth floor hallway and other rooms had smoke and water damage. Ulmer's room was completely gutted.

Secretary Reagan was one of 40 occupants evacuated from the eighth and ninth floors by firemen. He suffered from smoke inhalation, but has recovered enough to be in Atlanta for the 70th A.N.A. convention.

File For N.C.W.

Coin Clubs across the nation will want to file four issues of Coin World to use in preparing for the American Numismatic Association's 1962 National Coin Week. In the issues of July 28, August 4, 11 and 18, the winning clubs and individuals tell how they achieved the honors—while the processes are vivid in their minds.

Collecting M.D. Sought By Writer

Any doctors in the house?

Medical Economics, a financial magazine for doctors, wants a 300-word article about any M. D. who was able to pay for his child's or children's college or medical school education with profits from a coin collection or investments.

Don Bale Jr., 2008 West Madison St., Sioux Falls, South Dakota, would like to hear from any doctors who are interested in being the subject (s) of such an article.

Colorado Springs Seeks A.N.A. National Headquarters

A definite appeal to locate the proposed national headquarters of the American Numismatic Association at Colorado Springs, Colo., will be made during the meeting of the A.N.A. board of governors in Atlanta between sessions of the 70th annual convention.

Ralph Cleaver, president of the Zebulon Pike Coin Club of Colorado Springs, will present the proposal to the board as arrangements have been completed by the Colorado Springs group to push for a decision on location it was indicated.

Mayor William Henderson, member of the Colorado Springs club, has participated in meeting with the Chamber of Commerce, leading civic figures and fellow numismatists of that area looking to the development of more widespread interest in the sponsorship of such an undertaking on the part of the Colorado community.

The mayor was emphatic that if such approval can be secured, this action "would make Colorado Springs the coin capital of the world."

Cleaver has emphasized, however, that discussions are in the preliminary stages and there is no assurance that the Zebulon Pike club members would be successful in their efforts.

The proposal for the national building is expected to be a major item of discussion during the A.N.A. convention as funds have already been started for the building program according to A.N.A. secretary Lewis M. Reagan.

The annual reports to be submitted to the organization will show that an approximate $15,000 surplus of income over operating expenses will be transferred into the building fund.

This will be added to the figure which has already been received by the A.N.A. from the Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wisc., in behalf of the pub- (Continued from Page 1)

Atlanta Welcomes Nation's Collectors

Atlanta, Ga., has been transformed into the numismatic capital of the world as the American Numismatic Association opens its 70th convention August 16 for a four-day session at the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel.

True southern hospitality takes over where the hotel capacity leaves off, convention officials said on the convention eve, as late registrants were being located near the Biltmore in other swank hotels and motels.

Some of the finest numismatic collections in America — including some Confederate pieces never on public display before — will be seen at the convention.

Leading dealers from all over the United States and Canada are converging upon the Southern city for one of the largest bourse areas in A.N.A. history.

The convention will officially begin at 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, and conclude with Saturday night's banquet, although there will be security protection until 4 p.m. on Sunday for the convenience of exhibitors and dealers who are dismantling their material.

Registration, service and tour desks will be found in the Crystal lounge of the lobby floor of the hotel. The Pompeian room, Arcade south, will be the site of the auction, the business sessions and the club representatives' meeting along with Thursday's educational program.

The banquet and bourse will be held in the Exhibition Hall of the hotel with exhibits in the Georgian ball room, lobby north.

Rooms on the mezzanine will house the hospitality facilities; junior and ladies' activities will be directed from the registration desk.

A detailed listing and timetable of events are as follows:

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16

8:30 a.m. — Placing of exhibits and bourse space for exhibitors and dealers only. Opening of bourse at 10 a.m., and opening of exhibits at 12 noon, both to remain open until 11 p.m. Security guard protection at all times.

9 a.m. — Registration for members and guests until 8 p.m. Located in Crystal lounge, Lobby North, are registration desk, service desk, A.N.A. general secretary's desk, A.N.A. librarian's desk, tours desk and bulletin board. Tickets for the banquet should be obtained early—none will be available after 12 noon Saturday. Members can obtain tour tickets at tours desk. Some activities are limited.

Admiral Dodson Shares Credit Of A.N.A. Growth With Others

"The American Numismatic Association is growing beyond all expectations — like Jack's beanstalk — and it has never been in a healthier or more sound financial condition."

Rear Admiral O. H. Dodson, USN (ret.), the man who has stood at the helm of the A.N.A. for the past four years, pronounced this state of affairs from his offices in Detroit, where he is director of the National Bank of Detroit's Money Museum.

Admiral Dodson will hand the president's gavel to C. C. Shroyer, of Fremont, Ohio, unopposed candidate for the office at the Atlanta convention.

The retiring president paid tribute to his fellow officers by saying:

"This happy situation is the re-

Silver Kennedy Medal Doubtful

"If there is a continued interest in the silver medals and sufficient demand develops, a decision may be made at some time in the future by the Office of the Director of the Mint to manufacture them for sale to the public."

This is the form statement which is being currently mailed on behalf of Mrs. Rae V. Biester, superintendent of the Philadelphia Mint in response to collectors' inquiries about the availability of the President Kennedy Medal in silver.

"There are no plans at the present to do this," the statement also points out.

Atlanta Biltmore Gardens Beautiful

The Atlanta Biltmore Hotel, largest in the city, and A.N.A. convention headquarters, is famous for its huge garden.

A favorite meeting place, the garden is fragrant with English boxwood, magnolias, azaleas, tulips and camellias, but no peach trees, although it is located on West Peachtree street.

Denver Site For '63 Meeting

Denver will be the host city for the 1963 convention of the American Numismatic Association. The Denver Coin Club's invitation, extended in Boston in 1960, was accepted at that convention.

Other clubs who are seeking the privilege of welcoming A.N.A.-ers include the Northwest Coin Club for Minneapolis, the Metropolitan New York Coin Clubs for New York; the Pacific Coast Numismatic Society for San Francisco, and the Omaha Coin Club for Omaha.

lishing income from the sale of the A.N.A. sponsored books "The Best From The Numismatist," comprised of four volumes.

At a meeting of the A.N.A. Board of Governors this spring during the Central States convention in Minneapolis, approval was given to the establishment of a building fund and authority granted to start the solicitation funds for this purpose.

The national headquarters building is needed by the A.N.A. in order to house the administrative offices, the excellent library and the numismatic museum all in one location. Current estimates of the cost of such a building are in excess of $1,500,000.

At present the national numismatic organization of nearly 23,000 members has no headquarters building. Its valuable collections of coins and its offices are scattered in various cities throughout the country.

One of the coin collections is currently on loan to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. Another is held by the Museum of Monies of the World of the Chase National Bank of New York City while a third collection is in the Money Museum of the National Bank of Detroit. The library is housed in Lincoln, Nebr., because that is the home of the librarian.

The A.N.A. coin collection, once assembled in a single spot, could easily become the world's most valuable it is pointed out by A.N.A. officials in favor of the consolidation. The plans for the new building would include a numismatic museum in keeping with the value of the combined exhibit.

Youth Dies In Cleveland

Cleveland area collectors are extending sympathy to the Harry J. Hummer family, 17420

Windsor Road, Shaker Heights — Their son, David A. Hummer, died July 6 after fighting an incurable kidney disease since he was six years of age. David, whose death occurred at the Lakeside Hospital of University Hospitals, had been a coin collector since 1955 along with his father who started collecting two years earlier. The youth, a junior at Shaker High, persevered in his studies through elementary and nearly through high school in spite of his struggle against ill health.

He was the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Hummer. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. Jeffery Winn. His father is a lithographer for the Cleveland Offset Press.

The youthful collector specialized in cents through halves and had completed several collections including Lincolns (except the 1909-S VDB) and Jeffersons, Roosevelt.

Services were held at the St. Dominic Catholic church where David was an altar boy. Burial was made in Calvary Cemetery.

Shroyer Looks Forward To Atlanta A.N.A. Conclave

C. C. Shroyer

C. C. Shroyer — known to all of his friends as "Tim," — first vice president of the American Numismatic Association, who will succeed Admiral O. H. Dodson, USN (Ret.) as head of the A.N.A. today issued a statement from his Fremont, Ohio, home before he left for Atlanta.

Vice President Shroyer said:

"On this eve of the 70th convention of the American Numismatic Association, to be held August 16-19 in Atlanta, Georgia, I know there are hundreds of numismatists across the country who join me in great anticipation.

"The Atlanta convention gives every promise of being one of the most outstanding in the history of our organization. Our gracious Georgia friends have evidenced their famous and warm Southern hospitality in every planning detail.

"Nowhere else in the world is it possible to see such outstanding exhibits of numismatic material, to hear top authorities discuss their specialties, to contact the nation's leading dealers or to enjoy the atmosphere of good fellowship created by folks with a singleness of purpose and interest — the proper growth and development of the Science of Numismatics and its endless, exciting facets."

TELL ADVERTISERS YOU SAW IT IN "COIN WORLD!"

A.N.A. Medal Figure Low Curator Dodson Announces

The American Numismatic Association's collection of medals is still modest — it contains a total of 258 items, according to Curator O. H. Dodson.

Included in this number are 13 medals on loan in the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, a set of 35 Admiral Vernon medals on display in the Joslyn Museum, Omaha, Nebr., and 210 medals recently forwarded to Admiral Dodson as curator. They are temporarily stored in the National Bank of Detroit.

The A.N.A. has had a medal collection since 1957; at this time Mrs. Dwight P. Spencer donated to the A.N.A. her late husband's collection of medals including a complete collection of pieces issued by the Society of Medalists.

"Future plans provide for maintaining up to date the Society of Medalists' issues, adding a representative collection of presidential medals and the gradual acquisition of a modest but representative collection of contemporary medals issued abroad," Admiral Dodson pointed out.

Anderson Takes Office

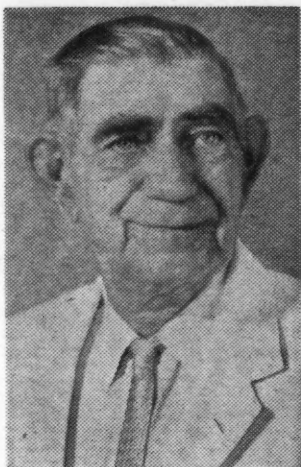

Second - in - command for the American Numismatic Association for the next two years is P. K. Anderson, of Gotebo, Okla., a life member of the organization and a member of the Board of Governors for the past six years.

One of the most popular and familiar figures at A.N.A. conventions, "P. K." has a colorful background and more than half a century of collecting experience.

He began collecting coins November 10, 1906, when his grandmother gave him a numismatic birthday present.

(A retired lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve, and a retired civil engineer, Anderson is a native of Enid, Okla., born November 10, 1894.)

He has never collected anything but foreign coins and for the past 40 years his primary interest has been the coinage of Spain proper.

P. K. Anderson, currently a member of the American Numismatic Association's Board of Governors, will be the A.N.A.'s next first vice president following announcement of election results at the convention in Atlanta.

Martin Chess Player

Leroy D. Martin, in charge of registrations at the 70th A.N.A. convention in Atlanta, will be glad for the "calm after the storm." He will be able to spend more time with numismatics — and with his chess games. He is a winner of the Gonzales trophy, an Atlanta Chess Association honor, named for the founder of the Atlanta Coin Club.

New Shop At Tuscaloosa Opens

Opening of a new coin and antique shop at 1404 University avenue, Tuscaloosa, Ala., is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boyd of that community.

The Boyds are natives of Tuscaloosa and opened their first similar shop in Albuquerque, N. M., and then at Vestavia Hills in Birmingham before returning to their native city a few weeks ago.

The shop will carry a varied selection of antiques, figurines, coin supplies, imported jewelry and Indian jewelry which the Boyds collected while in New Mexico.

Atlanta Well Publicized

With her historical background known all over the world from "Gone With the Wind," the book and movie, Atlanta abounds in points of interest.

ish collection. Let's allow Coin World readers see if they can guess those," said the next A.N.A. first vice president with his typical wit and good humor.

Anderson's numismatic library is his pride and joy — and he confesses that he thinks more of it than he does his coin collection.

Anderson is a fellow of the American Numismatic Society and the Royal Numismatic Society. He is a member of the Sociedad Numismatica de Mexico, California State Numismatic Association, Central States Numismatic Society, Florida United Numismatists, Society of Token, Medal and Obsolete Paper Money Collectors and past president of the Oklahoma City Coin Club.

Club Representatives Will Assemble Friday

Club representatives of the American Numismatic Association will meet at 11 a.m. Friday, August 18, in the Pompeian Room of the Atlanta Biltmore, Matt H. Rothert, second vice president of the A.N.A., reminded today.

"I want to call special attention to this meeting," he said. "We would like to have a representative of each and every club attend this meeting. There I will turn the gavel over to our new second vice president, Herbert Bergen," Rothert said.

"I believe we have accomplished a great deal in this office during the past year," the Camden man said as he pointed to his full report will be given at a business meeting at the convention.

Rothert, who is an honorary member of the Atlanta Coin Club, said on the eve of the convention:

"I can say that everyone attending the big Atlanta convention will find plenty of good old Southern hospitality.

"This is one of the friendliest clubs in the entire country. I know we will all have a wonderful time at Atlanta and I know that they have some very special things planned for all the numismatists attending this great convention.

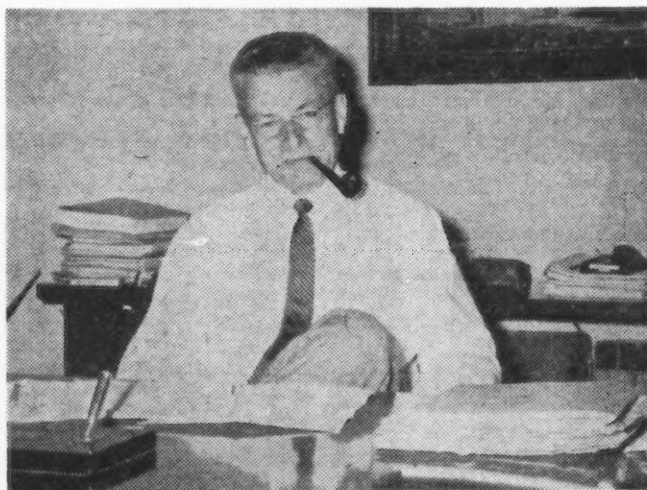

"As I am especially interested in the Confederate States of America material of all kinds, I am looking forward with great expectations to the exhibits.

Matt Rothert

"They stimulate interest in both the beginning and advanced collector. Exhibits should be stressed at the national level and local level. Even the smallest convention should have the finest exhibits possible.

"The Atlanta Biltmore is a beautiful and spacious hotel in a large, fast-growing modern city full of friendly people. I'll look forward to our meeting in Atlanta," Rothert concluded.

George M. Todd, official host of the Atlanta American Numismatic Association, a true southern gentleman in the traditional style, and the man who as general chairman has headed the Atlanta convention arrangements.

Chairman Issues Welcome

George M. Todd, of Atlanta, general chairman of the 1961 70th American Numismatic Association convention, today—in his familiar and genial manner—issued official greetings from convention headquarters.

Todd said: "The Rebel members of the American Numismatic Association have long awaited an opportunity to host an annual convention.

"The convention committee, an enthusiastic and devoted team, joins me in welcoming numismatists, their families and friends, to historic Atlanta — the heart of the Old South and the leader of the New South."

"In our plans we have kept foremost in mind the awarenesses that this is your convention. All the business, social, recreational and cultural functions will, we hope, give to each numismatist a delightful, enlightening and unforgettable experience.

"We eagerly look forward to sharing our southern hospitality with you. Welcome South, y'all!"

Big Job Facing A.N.A.

The future of coin collecting in this country lies with the American Numismatic Association. It will grow or decline with the leadership of the national organization, and there is a big job ahead for the officers of the A.N.A.

Dick Johnson

named, along with a ten man committee, by A.N.A. President Oscar H. Dodson.

In-coming President C. C. Shroyer has indicated he will reappoint Judd and the full committee.

Dr. Judd was an excellent choice to head up this committee. He is an expert—and has written the standard work—on patterns, trial, and experimental pieces, the very coins in jeopardy by some Treasury actions.

Of the ten man committee, half are lawyers, the other half are prominent collectors. Many have special knowledge of paper money or coins that have been questioned.

This committee is one of the most important ever to have been named in the history of the A.N.A. Their work is vital to every American collector and dealer. Their report will be eagerly sought after to make some numismatic sense out of the present confusing situation.

While this committee is important for the future, there are other big jobs facing the A.N.A. This week, with the change of officers ahead, is a time to examine these.

The A.N.A. as leader in the field of American numismatics has the job of directing the growth of coin collecting in the proper direction. Certainly there is a problem of rapidly expanding interest in the field.

Coin collecting is like a train, the A.N.A. is the engine, and more cars are being added to accommodate more people. The engineer has to know where he is going and be on the right track.

American collectors are looking to the A.N.A. for leadership. There is a big job ahead for the new officers.

A.N.A. Special Issue

This issue of Coin World is devoted to the A.N.A. and its annual convention in Atlanta. While we expanded the number of pages to eighty—largest our press will take without printing two sections—it was still not large enough to accommodate all the A.N.A. stories.

We have tried to give complete coverage to the A.N.A. activities in Atlanta, but still there are stories we will have to hold over for next week. Many of our regular features will not be in this issue to make room for the A.N.A. news. They will, of course, return next week.

This special edition—like previous ones—is largely the work of Mrs. Margo Russell. She has accomplished a Herculean task in making this edition possible.

Mr. A.N.A. - Lewis Reagan

If efficiency, devoted length of service, diplomacy, keen knowledge and dedication are the requirements for the title, "Mr. A. N.A.," then Lewis M. Reagan, of Wichita, Kansas, general secretary of the American Numismatic Association, qualifies for the honor.

Reagan has held the position of general secretary for 17 years, and has seen the membership grow from about 4,200 in 1944 to 22,374 as of June 30, 1961.

A total of 4,500 applications for membership were received during the past fiscal year with a net gain of about 2,700 or 13.7 per cent.

(When Secretary Reagan gives his annual report in Atlanta, the number of applications sponsored by various members will reveal that Coin World's editor, D. Wayne Johnson, heads the list with a total of 90 new members.)

Total income for the year for the A.N.A. was about $200,000. Secretary Reagan said as he surveyed a balanced budget for the year. A total of about $15,000 surplus was accumulated, most of which has been transferred to the building fund.

The A.N.A. office which Secretary Reagan operates is staffed by only one full-time secretary and two part-time assistants in addition to Reagan, and yet 130,000 pieces of mail went out during the past year.

Reagan, who knows the A.N.A. like the back of his hand, earlier served the organization as publicity director before he assumed the duties of general secretary.

He was presented with the highest honor in the organization in 1954 when he received the Faran Zerbe award. A year later he was the recipient of a special honor bestowed by hundreds of A.N.A. members recognizing him as an "efficient servant since 1937, and general secretary since 1944," as a token of appreciation.

Wood Prize Best In Show

The Howland Wood award will be made for the exhibit named by the judges as "best in show" at the American Numismatic Association convention in Atlanta.

First, second and third awards will be made in each classification. Philip S. Reed, exhibits chairman said.

Exhibits will be made in these categories:

United States coins.
Coins prior to 1500 A. D.
Foreign coins after 1500 A.D.

United States paper money.
Foreign paper money.
Confederate and Southern States paper money.

Medals, medallion art, orders and decorations.

Miscellaneous, specialized and other exhibits not covered by the previous classes.

The point system of judging will be used:

Numismatic information conveyed to the viewer, 30 points; arrangement, neatness and eye-appeal, 30 points; originality of exhibit, 15 points; comparative completeness of material exhibited, 15 points; comparative condition of material exhibited, five points; rarity and or value of material exhibited, five points.

Illinois Club To Hold Show

The Illinois Valley Coin Club, Tonica, Ill., will hold its first annual Coin-A-Rama at the Mendota Tri-County Fair, Mendota, Ill., starting on Friday evening, September 1, and continuing through Monday, September 4.

There will be an auction on three days, bourse tables, and a large autorama on Saturday with more than 400 cars of yesterday to be shown.

Carl J. Yost, president and general chairman, P. O. Box 128, Mendota, Ill., may be contacted for inquiries.

Lewis M. Reagan

An ex-president of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Coin Club, Reagan was similarly honored by that group with a gold medal in 1939 in appreciation of his services.

Reagan, who has been collecting coins for more than 35 years, recalled recently that he bought his first coin from Norman Shultz, of Salt Lake City, formerly of Colorado Springs.

He specializes in multiple crown coins — many of his pieces came from German states which existed before the German empire was

Coin - Stamp Show In Texas

Approximately 100 displays of coins and stamps were viewed by the general public during the recent three day showing by the Key City Coin Club at the Windsor Hotel in Abilene, Texas. Assisting was the Dyess A.F.B. Philatelic Society.

Special arrangements for the showing of 35 pages of Swiss stamps had been made by the general chairman of the show with the Swiss government.

The exhibition committee, chairmaned by Paul P. Luchsinger, president of the philatelic society, was composed of D. R. Pratt, E. E. Sellers, Dr. Guy L. Pattillo, A. G. Mire and Bob Nunnally, president of the Key City Coin Club.

formed. They were minted in the late 1600's and throughout the 1700's.

The general secretary cited the coins as typical of those from great nations with leaders and significant events captured for history.

Reagan attributes the growth of the A.N.A. and numismatics in general to the vital state organizations in all 50 states.

"Their members keep interested in the hobby through shows and conventions," he said. He also said the greater number of numismatic publications helps create interest among laymen and professional coin collectors by keeping them up to date on coins for sale and numismatic activities.

Reagan is a member of the faculty of the University of Wichita as a further demonstration of his versatility.

Gould Moves Sarasota Store

Moving to new and larger quarters, B. Jay Gould is proudly inviting all of his friends in the area to visit the new store at 6104 South Tamiami Trail, Sarasota, Florida, and enjoy the latest displays.

The air-conditioned show room has the latest revolving counters and neon lighting as well as enlarged stocks of fine coins.

Mr. Gould (Uncle Jay to hundreds of children) has devoted years to helping and aiding children to learn thrift by investing in proof sets and to become familiar with the monetary and economic system of this nation.

The growth of numismatics in the Sarasota area is emphasized by the fact that there are now five dealers in the same territory where two years ago none had store rooms.

All visitors to Florida are invited to stop in at the new store by Gould.

PRESIDENTIAL ART PRESENTS LINCOLN MEDAL

We at Presidential Art Medals, Inc., take pride in introducing the new Lincoln medal ... second in the series of finely sculptured, high quality Presidential Art Medals. This medal, like all medals in the series, will be struck by MEDALLIC ART COMPANY, the only American company devoted exclusively to sculptured bas-relief. The intricate design and sculptured work was done by MR. RALPH MENCONI, a sculptor internationally recognized for his abilities in full portrait and high relief work. A leaflet describing his work accompanies each medal.

This is a CONTINUING PROGRAM and three or four medals a year will be struck until the series of all Presidents is complete. New medals will be struck thereafter as Presidents are inaugurated. This exclusive offering will be a treasured possession whether you desire only one, or the entire series.

Among the more important reasons contributing to the increasing value of the precious medals is the fact that PRODUCTION IS LIMITED to the quantities shown below and unusually HIGH STANDARDS OF WORKMANSHIP are strictly maintained. The PRACTICAL SIZE of the medal (slightly larger than a half dollar) makes it particularly well suited to display in an album, which will be offered about December 1.

The Abraham Lincoln medal is offered as follows:

Platinum (pure)	25 serially numbered pieces.....	$500.00 ea.
Silver (.999+)	6500 serially numbered pieces.....	$ 10.00 ea.
Bronze		$ 2.50 ea.

Dealer inquiries are invited.

OF SPECIAL INTEREST ON THE PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY MEDAL.

One thousand Kennedy bronze medals were purchased by the State Department, four hundred of which were for distribution by President Kennedy himself on his mission to Paris, Vienna and London this past spring.

These medals are still available, in bronze only, at $2.50 each.

Orders are filled in the order received. To avoid disappointment, we suggest that you select and order your Presidential Art Medals today. Ohio residents add 3% sales tax.

Presidential Art Medal To Be Released At Atlanta

The Abraham Lincoln Presidential Art Medal.

The Abraham Lincoln Presidential Art Medal — the second in a series of presidents of the United States — will be released in time for a preview at the American Numismatic Association convention in Atlanta, officials of the Presidential Arts Medals, Inc., Dayton, Ohio, announce.

Sculptor Ralph J. Menconi of New York — who did the sensitive portrait of John F. Kennedy for the firm's first medallic art offering — has executed the Lincoln medal; Medallic Art Company of New York will strike the Lincoln medal, too.

Menconi said today from his New York headquarters that he considers the study of Lincoln as one of his best works — he proceeded to create his own impression of Lincoln after several weeks of intensive study.

He was assisted in the selection of portraits on which to base the sculpture by officials of the New York Public Library who furnished him with over 300 Lincoln portraits for study.

event, to close the auction, and has included the two pieces in the A.N.A. convention catalog.

"We will earmark every No. 1 silver medal in our series for the A.N.A. auction in the future, and we hope others will follow," said Presidential Art officials as they expressed their keen interest in the growth of the American Numismatic Association and its building fund.

All four executives of the firm are members of the A.N.A. — W. Frank Darner, president; Max Humbert, vice president; Clark Keyser, secretary, and James Harper, treasurer.

Menconi was selected as sculptor for the Lincoln medal in recognition of the overwhelming response and many compliments accorded the Kennedy medal. High praise has been given him for his Lincoln work as a truly great work of art by all who have seen it.

Officials of the Dayton Presidential Art firm, headed by W. Frank Darner, as president, are enthused at the traditionally high quality of the Medallic Art Company's craftsmanship so evident in the Lincoln medal.

THE NUMISCOPE

With circulated coins getting scarcer and scarcer, it now becomes necessary to look over more and more coins. The NUMISCOPE has solved your problem and speeds up examination, accepts or rejects coins at your will and wraps and counts them for you! All in one simple operation! No turning the coins as you see both sides at the same time! If you are looking for an aid to checking coins, don't be misled by gadgets!

THERE IS ONLY ONE - THE NUMISCOPE! FIRST COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC COIN CHECKER

The October 20th edition of the "Coin World" carried a story about it. THE NUMISCOPE is the only instrument on the market that lets you see both sides of the coin at the same time. It is the only one that counts and wraps the unwanted coins for you.

Are your eyes perfect? If they are, you can check up to 3,000 coins per hour! The speed depends upon you. Over 2,000,000 coins were checked by the model pictured in the October issue of "Coin World" without breakdowns other than light bulbs and it is still going strong checking about $1,000.00 worth of coins a week in cents, nickels, dimes and quarters.

Special tools for closing one end of the wrapper in seconds for cents, nickels and dimes goes with the machine. It operates on 110 volts (house current) and also has batteries for emergency use in your car or away from electricity.

It is the only complete and original first automatic viewer on the market. It is built like a cash register. It is not a plastic proposition! It is made of cast aluminum throughout. It is finished in wrinkle finish either in black or platinum grey at your option.

You hardly move your head to see both sides of the coin clearly, of the same size, and you rest while checking. Your hands are always on the slide bar which is the control to take or reject coins. All you move is your hands with a wrist motion. You rest on your elbows.

As an extra aid for speed, accuracy and economy we also make the three heavy cast aluminum trays which are a must as the sorted coins are placed in their proper place to accumulate until you have a roll of them. That is, one for each mint and each tray takes the past current fifty years up to 1961 starting with 1911. That means that you can take care of 150 dates. At a glance you know where they are. They are cross indexed. Expensive? No!

The Whole Outfit, Complete,
Ready To Operate, Costs Less Than A Good Typewriter!

$155⁰⁰

F.O.B. Wisconsin Dells, Wisc.

THE NUMISCOPE IS MADE ON ORDER ONLY!

Cash or check must accompany the order. Delivery of the trays immediately, the machine in 10 days to two weeks. Your machine is built for you. It is not in stock on some shelf. All machines are built with tools. You can get a replacement part any time if you break something accidentally. Worn parts will be replaced without cost at any time. "THE YEARS FLY BY WITH A NUMISCOPE."

You will be the envy of any collector who doesn't own one. Users have sent in letters via air mail to tell us the machine is "CHOICE." One called in long distance from Kansas City to tell us he "was tickled pink" with it. Another said it was a "Masterpiece of ingenuity." Don't you think that you should be the FIRST in your area to own one? It eats up a bag full in no time at all! Also excellent for grading coins due to the uniform illumination.

We have received quite a few letters from full and part-time dealers who seem to think that in recent articles we have more or less criticized those who sold coins for upgrading merchandise, lack of service, and other general ethics of buying and selling.

Jim Kelly

Some of these dealers feel that perhaps we should also caution the buyer to observe certain rules when purchasing coins in order to promote a better understanding between buyer and seller, as well as help to avoid disappointment.

Here are some of their suggestions: (A) Make sure you are ordering from a reputable dealer. Your experiences will be more pleasant and will give you a better perspective toward future purchases.

(B) Send your order immediately from current listings as dealers' stocks of choice material are subject to rapid turnover and price changes.

(C) Be clear concerning your order in regard to condition, quantity, etc. This will prevent unnecessary delay and correspondence.

(D) The buyer should also be fair in his grading of coins; don't expect to get more or better material than that advertised and for which you have paid. Dealers cannot be expected to go through hundreds of coins to hand-pick gem uncirculated specimens for the regular price.

Many coins returned are due to the lack of numismatic knowledge and experience on the part of the buyer. Returns and refunds are an expense which the dealer should not be called upon to bear when it is the fault of the collector.

Several other suggestions were — don't ask for approvals on small orders; and if you have a legitimate reason to return merchandise, do so promptly.

Prompt payment will assure you of extra consideration and fast service. If it doesn't, then it's time to look for another dealer.

In a word, be fair; give the dealer the same cooperation that you in turn expect.

Numismatist's First Press

Dr. George F. Heath, founder of the American Numismatic Association October 7, 1891, printed the first issues of The Numismatist, one page at a time, on this press, starting in 1888. The stick of type in front of the type case was the last set by Dr. Heath before his death in 1908. His son, D. R. Heath, Grosse Point, Mich., keeps the press in perfect condition.

Cornely Assembles List
Of Georgia Broken Bank Notes

An outstanding authority on Georgia currency who has spent many months of research is Robert W. Cornely, 4221 San Jose Boulevard, Jacksonville, 7, Florida.

He has compiled an impressive list of Broken Bank Notes issued by the state of Georgia — it contains over 940 separate notes issued in 56 cities throughout the state.

Currently he is in the process of assembling a collection of photographs of each note, and completing a concise key system.

His listing booklet lists the cities and then the banks in alphabetical order; he has arranged the material so it will be easy to provide for the addition of new discoveries.

Georgia cities listed in Cornely's publication include Athens, Atlanta, Augusta, Bainbridge, Brunswick, Cahutah, Cassville, Columbus, Dahlonega, Dalton, Darien.

Eaton, Forsyth, Greensborough, Griffin, Hawkinsville, Lagrange, Macon, Marion, Milledgeville, Morgan, Oxford, Ringgold, Rome, Savannah, St. Marys, Thomasville, Washington and West Point.

Persons interested in obtaining more information concerning Cornely's booklet and his research may write him at his Jacksonville, Fla., address.

The Numismatist Editor Rare Combination Of Talents

The Numismatist, handsome slick official publication of the American Numismatic Association, is edited by a man as versatile, knowledgeable and with as much prestige as the magazine itself — Chicagoan Elston G. Bradfield.

Bradfield, a rare combination of a top numismatist and a top journalist, has headed the magazine since 1954 when he succeeded Stuart Mosher, curator of numismatics at the Smithsonian Institution.

Under Bradfield's strong but sensitive hand The Numismatist has kept pace with the phenomenal growth of the A.N.A. — retaining all of the dignity and tradition of The Numismatist's format, yet bringing to members the latest in spot news, depth reporting, features by outstanding authorities in numismatics.

Bradfield's work — with the assistance of Glenn S. Smedley, Oak Park, Ill., and S. W. Freeman, of Newport, Ark.—Advertising Manager—has made The Numismatist one of the outstanding advantages of belonging to the A.N.S. Many non-member research sources and libraries over the nation subscribe for the benefit of their patrons.

An editor of Bradfield's calibre did not happen overnight — he draws upon a remarkable storehouse of experience which started in Indiana where he was born in 1906, and where he attended public schools.

A scholarship sent him to Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., and he continued his studies, majoring in journalism, at Northwestern University, and at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

He worked at various times as a hotel assistant manager, reporter, copy reader, newspaper librarian — a member of the staff of the Chicago Tribune — book reviewer, contributor to periodicals and encyclopedias — and, tongue-in-cheek Bradfield even reported a period as a pickle buyer. "For H. J. Heinz, who else?" he grinned.

As personal librarian to the late Col. Robert R. McCormick, Bradfield did research on books and speeches for the colorful publisher.

He served in World War II as a member of the 70th infantry division. A past commander of the Medill-Tribune American Legion post, he also held the position as commander of the sixth Illinois district of the American Legion.

In addition to his activity in civic and veterans' affairs, Bradfield is a member of the Chicago Press Club, Press Veterans of Chicago, the Masonic Lodge and a number of historical societies.

The editor is a life member of the American Numismatic Association and the Central States Numismatic Society, and an honorary member of the Numismatic Society of South Australia. He is also a member of the American Numismatic Society, Middle Atlantic Numismatic Association, Canadian Numismatic Association and other numismatic groups.

Among his many distinctions is serving as president of the Chicago Coin Club. He holds medals of merit from the American Numismatic Association, the Central States Numismatic Society and the Chicago Coin Club. He founded the C. S. N. S. Centinel in 1953, and has continued as its editor ever since.

Bradfield has many numismatic writings to his credit — but one of the best known of his works is the editing of four volumes of American Numismatic Association reprints in 1960 and 1961 under the general titles of "Selections from The Numismatist."

Bradfield's collecting interest? It can be little surprise that he specializes in accumulating numismatic literature.

The Bradfields are one of the most popular couples at numismatic gatherings everywhere — she was Chicago-born Jean Lambert; they were married on New Year's Day of 1935.

Mrs. Bradfield spent much of her early childhood in South and Central America.

Highly talented and pretty, she's been an actress and model, a lecturer and instructor on beauty aids to the American woman, a business woman with her own firm, writer of verse, contributor of descriptive prose to The Numismatist, and active in wide ranging civic and charitable interests.

"She's good medicine for me" explains Editor Bradfield. And this is the same description used by the Bradfield intimates to describe both of them — vital, interested contributors to the advancement of numismatics with their time, talents and energies.

Advertising Manager Man Of Knowledge

Versatile S. W. Freeman, advertising manager of The Numismatist, who resides at Newport, Ark., is a man of many interests and talents.

He knows his journalism, his office equipment and especially his two cent pieces as anyone in numismatics can testify.

An intensive researcher in this latter field, Freeman generously shares his knowledge with his fellow collectors in the way of fine writing and programming.

He accepted the post of advertising manager of The Numismatist in 1958 following the death of Burton H. Saxton.

A native of Richmond, Va., Freeman was educated at the public schools there, the Augusta Military Academy and the University of Virginia.

From boyhood — from 1919 in fact — Freeman has been a student and collector of coins. One of the early influences on his numismatic interest was that of Miss Ella B. Wright, assistant to Henry Chapman, where Freeman spent many pleasant hours in the Chapman home and office in Philadelphia.

One of his most prized books on coins is an original book on large cents, written by F. W. Doughty and F. D. Andrews with pencil notations by Chapman.

Although he is familiar with ancient and foreign coinage and medallic art, Freeman has always maintained his interest in early American coinage, especially U. S. half cents, one cents and finally specializing in the two cent piece.

He spent several years in advertising on newspapers and periodicals before he entered the office supply and equipment business in Newport; he is the authorized Underwood agent for the northeastern part of Arkansas.

His wife, Lucy, shares his interest in numismatics, and is a charming addition to conventions the Freemans are privileged to attend. Their sons are Charles and Sam.

Freeman became an A.N.A. member in 1931; he holds life membership No. 366. At the recent Chicago convention he was presented with the A.N.A. 25-year membership medal.

Freeman belongs to many numismatic organizations; he is a past president of the Arkansas Numismatic Society.

And if his advertising, his business demands, his writing, his speaking and his traveling fail to keep him busy, Freeman can turn to American Indian artifacts — he is also an amateur archeologist.

Glenn B. Smedley Enjoys Work On The Numismatist

Glenn B. Smedley, of Oak Park, Ill., has an official title, assistant to the editor of The Numismatist — a post he has held for the past year and a half.

"I like the work and have more of a feeling of accomplishing something worthwhile than ever before," said Smedley — a man who stands at the top of the list in getting things done in the numismatic field.

He cites his duties as editing the club news section of The Numismatist as one of the highlights of his career. "I have been given unusual familiarity with the activities of many clubs and these have resulted in quite a few long distance friendships," Smedley pointed out.

Smedley, who was received the Farran Zerbe award of 1960, has been an A.N.A. member since 1939. He is a senior electrical engineer with the Commonwealth Edison Co. in Chicago.

In his more than 20 years of A.N.A. membership he has served as a member of National Coin Week awards committee in 1949, chairman of the Edward T. Newell visual education committee from 1949 to 1958, served as a member of the Board of Governors from 1953 to 1957, general chairman of the 1956 annual convention, and was first vice president of the organization from 1957 to 1959.

During his work as chairman of the visual education committee,

Glenn B. Smedley, of Oak Park, Ill., assistant to the editor of The Numismatist.

Smedley made practically all of the slides and wrote most of the lecture notes for them. The hard-working, dedicated numismatist estimated his time for this activity alone at 5,000 hours!

No monetary compensation was ever accepted for any of his activities by Smedley for any of the services of offices he has held with the exception of his work as assistant to the editor of The Numismatist.

Active in Central States Numismatic Society affairs, Smedley was a member of the board of governors of this organization from 1953 to 1955, and was chairman of the 1953 annual convention.

He was first vice president of the Chicago Coin Club in 1949; secretary-treasurer in 1950, and served as president of that group.

Library To Remain Open

The North Georgia College library of Dahlonega, Ga., will be open for inspection of the Dahlonega gold collection through August 16 for the convenience of American Numismatic Association visitors.

After August 16 the library will close, but groups may arrange for a special showing during the closed session by writing to Mrs. Fred Thomas, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Hours for the library during its regular season (September through mid-August) are Monday through Friday from 7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m. Saturday hours are 7:45 a.m. until noon; it is closed on Sundays.

A member of the Oak Park Coin Club board, in 1958, he is a special representative in the United States of the Numismatic Society of South Australia.

He retains membership in these organizations along with the American Numismatic Society, the Western Society of Engineers, Chicago Historical Society, Essay Proof Society, Iowa Numismatic Assn., Penn-Ohio Coin Clubs, California State Numismatic Assn.

Smedley holds the medal of merit from A.N.A., the C.S.N.A. and the Chicago Coin Club. He holds an A.N.A. life membership voted in by executive board action in 1956.

His A.N.A. convention exhibits brought him first honors in United States coins in 1950, miscellaneous class, 1953, and paper money class 1955.

Smedley is a veteran exhibitor during National Coin Week.

He is widely known for his numerous talks to coin and service clubs in the Chicago area and for his work in cooperation with several banks in arranging special exhibits at various times including "traveling" exhibits for Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago and Continental Illinois Bank and Trust Co., Chicago.

In 1949 he arranged an exhibit in "Bank of Gold Gulch" at the Chicago Railroad Fair.

Writings of the noted numismatist are familiar to readers of the Numismatic Scrapbook, The Essay-Proof Journal and The Numismatist, of course.

Bennett Owns Gold; Faithful Club Member

Jackson Bennett, housing chairman of the A.N.A. convention in Atlanta, never misses an Atlanta Club meeting; he travels to and from Athens, Ga. He owns a complete set of Dahlonega gold and for several years has been doing research on Dahlonega and Templeton Reid Georgia gold.

He states that a complete set of Dahlonega contains 60 coins, and that there are less than six in existence.

Chairman Retires

L. A. Cook, security chairman of the Atlanta American Numismatic Association convention, recently retired from government work — and spends many enjoyable hours on his coin collection.

A.N.A. Members Pose In Minneapolis

The 1936 American Numismatic Association convention was held in Minneapolis

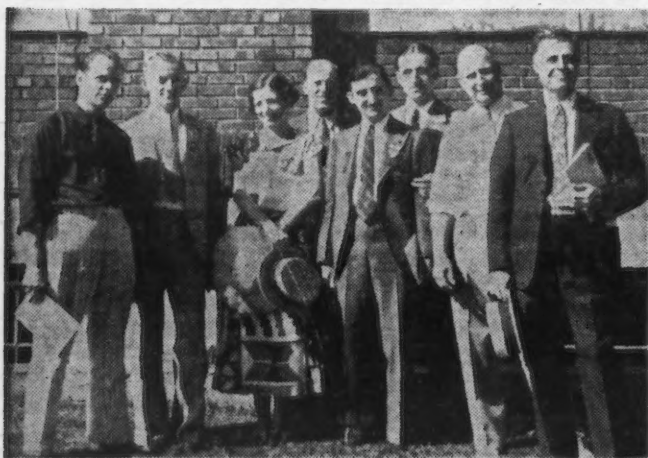

Park Strollers, Circa 1936

Out for a stroll through one of the many parks in Minneapolis one fine day in 1936, during the American Numismatic Association convention, were, left to right, Opal Harper, (now Mrs. John Morris Jr.) Nelson T. Thorson and William Schultz. (All of these 1936 photographs are from the collection of Mrs. John H. Morris Jr., Homewood, Alabama, who cherishes them with special care—the 1936 convention was the first for them.)

Good Fellowship In 1936

This happy group paused at the Land O'Lakes Creamery in Minneapolis during a tour at the 1936 American Numismatic Association convention. P. S. Stevens, of Chicago, took the photo. Included in the photo are Don C. Kelfer, John H. Morris, Opal E. Harper, (now Mrs. Morris) Paul Ginther, Harry X Boesel, Lee F. Hewitt and Paul C. Buetow.

Special Award Will Go To Best Confederate Exhibit

The Atlanta Coin Club's special award for the top Confederate currency exhibit of 1961.

A special award for the Confederate and Southern states paper money exhibit winner, sponsored by the Atlanta Coin Club, will be the only new award at the American Numismatic Association Atlanta convention, according to Louis S. Werner, of New York — the man who has designed all the A.N.A. and National Coin Week awards for more than two decades.

Werner who works concertedly in advance of the annual A.N.A. meeting does not let down during the convention. Then he steps in as sergeant at arms for the organization, a duty he has faithfully performed for 25 years! But one of his greatest sources of satisfaction is watching the fruits of his labor being presented to proud winners during special ceremonies.

Werner is a numismatic broker, dealer and importer, specializing in United States and foreign coins of the world, U.S. paper money, medals, rare stamps, Greek and Roman coins and objects of art.

Louis S. Werner

His offices are located at 1270 Broadway in New York.

He is a life member of the American Numismatic Association, a life fellow of the Royal Numismatic Society, a life fellow of the American Numismatic Society and a member of the Professional Numismatic Guild.

Trends Of Today's Canadian Coin Values

Price Advances Show In Catalog

By J. E. Charlton
86 Richmond St. East
Toronto 1, Ont., Canada

Readers of Canadian Coin Trends will have anticipated the rather sharp price advances in some of the keys and uncirculated coins in the 10th edition of the Standard Catalogue which has just been released. These reflect the keen demand which has developed since the beginning of the year and also indicates the value and purpose of Coin Trends in keeping abreast of the active market in the Canadian series.

It should be kept in mind that several months elapse from the time values are compiled for a catalogue and it is published. Harold Don Allen will be reviewing the aforementioned catalogue for Coin World so the writer will confine his remarks to some of the price changes.

In the small cents most interest will be shown in the 1923 which has advanced from $3.00 to $4.50 in V. G. and even at the higher price is difficult to obtain.

Also moving up 50 per cent are the 1925 from $2.00 to $3.00, the 1927 from 20c to 30c and the 1930 from 40c to 60c. Greater percentage increases are shown for the 1926 which has doubled in price from 40c to 80c and the 1922 from $1.25 to $2.00.

In large nickels appreciable increases have been recorded for the 1925 from $7.00 to $9.00 in V. G. and the 1926 far 6 from $8.00 to $12.00. Like the key small cents, the demand is very keen for these nickels and apparently exceeds the supply.

This trend has been particularly evident at the coin conventions. At Miami the 1925 nickel sold in quantity at $6.50, at Muskegon $7.50, Minneapolis $8.50, Pittsburgh $9.50 and Albany $10.00, and few are available at the top price today.

In large cents the 1907 has jumped from 30c to 75c in V. G.; up 50 per cent are the 1904 from 50c to 75c and the 1905 from $1.00 to $1.50.

In 5c silver the rare 1921 has moved up from $550 to $700 in VF and from $1,000 to $1,100 in Unc. Greatest increases in the 10c silver are shown for the 1893 round top up from $1100 to $1300 in Unc. and the 1889 from $1000. to $1,200. The 1935 has advanced from $25 to $75 in Unc.

A two way market has developed in the silver dollars with the 1950 Armpror type up sharply from $28 to $30 in Unc. and the 1955 Armpror up from $30 to $35. The 1946 has declined from $75 to $70 and the 1947 pointed 7 and 1947 ML from $75 to $65 each.

It should be kept in mind however that only about 20,000 each of these last three silver dollars were issued and the present market could change quickly.

In proof-like sets the 1953 has soared from $25 to $100 and is in demand at the higher price. The 1954 has doubled in value from $25 to $50 and other dates have all shown advances but on a smaller scale.

Canadian $5 and $10 gold coins are up approximately 10 per cent, and the only noticeable change in Canadian sovereigns is in the 1908 up from $200 to $300 in Unc.

Newfoundland coins the 1890 oval "O" is up from $50 to $75 in V.G., the 1946 5c from $45 to $70 in V.G. and $85 to $125 in Unc. and the 1870 10c from $30 to $50 in VG and $90 to $200 in Unc.

The increased demand and lack of supply has resulted in increases for most uncirculated coins.

LARGE CENTS
NOTE: Large Cents in Br. Unc. seldom obtainable and command a premium of 50 per cent to 75 per cent over Unc. prices.

Confederate Capt. Invents Coke

Atlanta, birthplace of Coca-Cola, points to this distinction with pride as it calls the drink "the world's best known product."

Both the flowing Spencerian script of its trade-mark and the familiar shape of its container are among the world's most easily recognized symbols. It is found in every nation of the world outside the Iron Curtain and has reached phenomenal sales.

The staggering story of Coca-Cola began in 1886 with a druggist named John Styth Pemberton, who was born in 1833, served as a Confederate captain in the Civil War, and who in 1869 came to seek his fortune in Atlanta, Georgia.

Pemberton was an inveterate dabbler. He brewed without noticeable success liver pills, blood medicine, hair dye, cough syrup and gingerine. In 1886, his three-legged pot in the backyard produced a soft drink. He took it to the soda fountain of Willis Venable, Atlanta's soda water king. Venable dispensed it without much success in the first year; Sales totaled 25 gallons for $50 of which $46 dollars went for advertising.

Pemberton had enough faith in it to keep plugging and the second year he sold 1,000 gallons. The Trade-Mark "Coca-Cola," and script writing of it were originated by Pemberton's bookkeeper, an Iowan named Frank M. Robinson.

But when Pemberton died in 1888, only one man apparently had real faith in his soft drink. That man was Asa G. Candler, a wholesale druggist who called for the product often. Candler, then 38, had youth, ambition and an advertising flair. He already owned one-third when Pemberton died, acquired the rest of the holdings by 1891. In 1892, he and a few friends organized The Coca-Cola Company of Georgia with capital of $100,000.

Candler had come to Atlanta with $3.50 in his pocket. When he celebrated his 50th anniversary there, he had become a man of considerable wealth. A pitchman of the first order, Candler gave away millions of complimentary tickets good for a glass of Coca-Cola at a soda fountain; and he also gave away millions of souvenir fans, matches and other gimmicks.

By 1904, Candler's drink had hit the million-gallonage mark. In 1911, his advertising ran more than one million dollars a year. In the years since, the Coca-Cola Company alone, the syrup maker, has spent millions on advertising.

But not all of the early success was traceable to Candler alone. In 1899, two Chattanooga lawyers, Benjamin F. Thomas and Joseph B. Whitehead, came to Atlanta and asked for the rights to bottle the drink. Candler, busy with his soda fountain sales, gave them the rights to the entire United States except for Mississippi and New England.

The Mississippi rights were already owned by Joseph A. Biedenharn of Vicksburg, Miss., who found that the country folk coming into his soda water emporium, were asking more and more for Coca-Cola. Impressed, he began to bottle it in 1894 and take it around to the plantations.

Biedenharn did not push his territory farther, but back in Chattanooga, Thomas and Whitehead enlisted the financial help of John T. Lupton and assessed what they had.

Seeing that what they had was too big for three men, they began to search for competent individuals all over the nation to whom they could give sub-franchises.

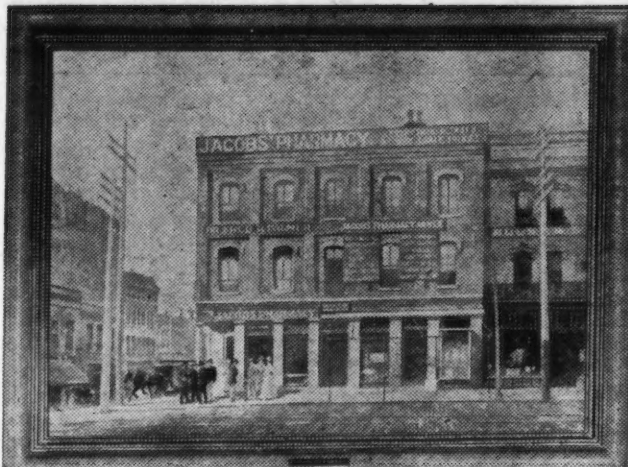

Every available relative got a crack at it; strangers amassed fortunes; but the man who introduced the Chattanooga to Candler didn't think enough of it to get a share himself. It would have paid him an annual income of $3,000!

According to the trade magazine Modern Packaging, the famous bottle which is a Trade-Mark was originated in 1915. One story says the bottle was deliberately designed to look like the then-fashionable hobble-skirt. Modern Packaging estimates that the Coca-Cola bottle is known by shape to 90 per cent of the world's population!

Be that as it may, Coca-Cola in bottles expanded even more spectacularly with the introduction of the new design. In 1900, one drink in 100 was bottled. In 1919 Candler sold his interests to Ernest Woodruff of Atlanta for $25,000,000. The firm was later to make that much in a single year! The Woodruff interests still control the parent company.

By 1941, they had pushed it into 70 foreign nations. By 1957 Coca-Cola was being sold in more than 100 countries. It was so widely known that Don Wharton, writing in Reader's Digest, could relate the tale of the German prisoner coming off the boat in New York in 1943. He saw a coke ad and turning to an MP said, "Oh, you have Coca-Cola here, too."

Nineteen forty-one was the year, too, that "Coke" was first used in advertisements.

Coca-Cola was first sold and dispensed from a fountain at Jacobs Pharmacy in downtown Atlanta in 1886 at a corner now famous as Five Points.

The first and third home of Coca-Cola was at 107 Marietta Street, Atlanta. Here in this former home of Edmund W. Holland, an antebellum Atlanta baker, Dr. John S. Pemberton perfected the formula for Coca-Cola in May, 1886.

Convention Guests May Visit Coca-Cola Plant

Coca-Cola may be many things to many people — but it's "Atlanta" to organizers of the American Numismatic Association convention.

Franklin Garrett and Wilbur G. Kurtz Jr., of the Coca-Cola Company's Office of Public Information, have been of much assistance to the convention committee, furnishing special souvenirs, prizes and exhibits for the A.N.A. convention.

Kurtz' great grandfather was William A. Fuller of the Great Locomotive chase, and recipient of the nation's first Medal of Honor, the Coca-Cola executive revealed in a numismatic-slanted conversation.

Old coins, Confederate bills and the historic phase of numismatics appeal to both men who are famous Atlanta historians and authors who preside in a modern and yet "old-timey" atmosphere.

Convention-goers are invited to walk the short distance from the Atlanta Biltmore to the Coca-Cola Bottling Company and tour the plant.

Guides will show A.N.A. visitors through the plant any weekday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.; there is no bottling on Thursday afternoon.

Convention folks need no appointment, they can just walk to the plant any time and be cordially invited to tour.

Kurtz and Garrett cited the famous quotation of William Allen White, the noted Kansas editor, who was photographed on his 70th birthday by a Life photographer beside a Coca-Cola dispenser.

White said:

"Coca-Cola is a sublimated essence of all that America stands for, a decent thing, honestly made, universally distributed, conscientiously improved with the years."

Bauer Begins Visual Program

George J. Bauer, of Rochester, N. Y., who died this year, introduced the American Numismatic Association's visual education program, named for Edward T. Newell, in 1941. M. Vernon Sheldon, a past A.N.A. president, was the first administrator.

First slide sets were made of plastic impressions of coinage; later photographic slides, sound film and tape narrations were introduced.

First Conclave In South For A.N.A. Group

The American Numismatic Association is meeting for the first time in the South although it has held conventions all but two years since its first one October 7, 1891.

More conventions have been held in Chicago than in any other city, statistics disclose.

There have been nine conventions held in the Windy City, including the first one.

Twice during this 69-year span of numismatic history there were no conventions — the flu epidemic of 1918 caused the cancellation of the Philadelphia convention that year, although the officers did meet in Springfield, Mass., in December.

There was no A.N.A. convention in 1945. Here, again, however, the executive board met in New York City to transact the organization's vital business.

The convention has been held four times in Detroit and Philadelphia and three times in Washington, Buffalo, New York, Rochester, Boston and Cleveland.

Host cities twice since 1891 are Columbus, Montreal, Detroit, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh and San Francisco.

The A.N.A. members have assembled in each of the following cities for conventions:

St. Louis — or the world's fair grounds in 1904 — Hartford, Minneapolis, Davenport, Iowa; Milwaukee, Phoenix, Dallas, Omaha, Portland and Springfield, Mass.

Magic Act At Newark Show

Don DeVore, Columbus, Ohio, coin dealer and magician, has been announced as featuring with his magic acts the program at the Summer Coin Show next Sunday, August 13, sponsored by the Central Ohio Coin Club of Newark, Ohio, at Buckeye Lake's Park Terrace Sky Room, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Other events on the program will include exhibits, bourse and auction and special prizes, according to general chairman Charles E. Keinath. Parking will be available for 500 cars, free picnic facilities, modern restaurants, swimming, boating and the like are offered.

Bourse table fees are $7.50 for the day, and reservations may be made with Keinath at 38 Prospect Street, Newark, in case of last minute cancellations.

Couple Sees Gold Cache Grow In Value

A delighted Atlanta couple watched a coin find grow in value before their eyes recently when they consulted an Atlanta banker as to the disposition of a gold cache.

The banker said a Negro came to him and said that he and his wife had $745 in gold coins. He thought it was against the law to own them and went to his banker friend for advice.

It is no longer unlawful to own gold U. S. coins, as the banker explained to him. He advised the Negro to bring the gold coins to the bank which the Negro did. They were delivered in a snuff can which had been buried under ground.

The banker asked several coin dealers for bids on the old coins. He received three bids — $1,400, $1,475, and $1,600. He called the owner and told him that the highest bid for his $745 was $1,600. Said the Negro, according to our bank friend, "In that case I speck I've inclined to let it go."

New Club Starts In Florida Area

Interested coin collectors are invited to attend the next meeting of the recently formed coin club in Fernandino Beach, Fla., scheduled for Monday, August 14, at the Recreation Center, starting at 8 p.m.

At the organization session, Paul Ulsch was elected president, Harold Belcher, vice president, and Terry McKendree, secretary-treasurer. Harry Lohman and Redd Lewellen were elected to the board of directors which comprises the officers and two club members.

Dealer Group Soon Year Old; Headquarters In Texas Town

The Retail Coin Dealers Association, Inc., a "brain child" of its secretary, Wilson F. Walters, with headquarters in Denison, Texas, will soon observe its first anniversary.

Walters, who had been dealing in coins and currency for several years, felt the need to stabilize the hobby and to establish and promote better business standards and relationships between dealers and between dealers and collectors. He also advocated a code of ethics for dealers and collectors.

Another need, Walters felt, was protection to help minimize coin thefts and robberies and to cut down on swindles and unorthodox dealing methods. A complaint and credit file system was also proposed.

The organization was incorporated November 7, 1960; it has for its officers Eliot J. Cashdan, president; J. K. Megginson, vice president; and Walters, secretary-treasurer.

The corporation has completed work on its credit information code, furnished to members only, and has a quarterly bulletin sent to members February, May, August and November.

It has a $100 standing reward for the arrest and conviction of robbers involving over $50.

Dues for the services rendered by the corporation are $10 for the first year and $12 each year afterward. Application for joining the service corporation may be obtained by writing to Wilson F. Walters, P. O. Box 536, Denison, Texas.

further enhance their very fine reputation," said Darnier.

The Lincoln medal like all the others in the series, will be slightly larger than a half dollar with an extremely high relief. The company plans to offer an album designed especially for the series about December 1.

Bronze Lincoln medals will cost $2.50 each; there will be a total of 6,500 serially numbered silver medals at $10 each to be struck. Twenty-five serially numbered specimens, to be struck in pure platinum, will be priced at $500 each.

The John F. Kennedy Presidential Art medal in platinum sold out in two days; the supply of silver medals was exhausted in only eight weeks. Only the bronze is now available at $2.50 each in the Kennedy offering.

"We anticipate an even more intense interest in the Lincoln medal, and suggest that those who wish to own this piece place their orders promptly to avoid disappointment," said Max J. Humbert, vice president in charge of sales.

They may be secured from most local coin dealers or by ordering direct from Presidential Art Medals, Inc., 5024 Pepper Drive, Dayton, 24, Ohio.

Dome Gold-Covered

The dome of the State Capital building in Atlanta was covered with gold leaf in 1959 — 43 ounces of gold were taken to Atlanta by Dahlonega by a wagon train outfit by folks in pioneer costume.

BEST NEWS IN YEARS FOR COIN COLLECTORS

Toivo Johnson takes a great deal of pleasure in bringing to his coin friends, the first beautiful medal in the COIN MEDALS series,

The Official AUGUSTUS SAINT-GAUDENS COMMEMORATIVE MEDAL

While this medal will be ready for delivery in about 30 days, we do not as yet have pictures of it for publication. But we will do the best we can by word description.

The idea or theme of COIN MEDALS, is to commemorate great coin designers, the men who made the coins we collect. Other medals to follow, equally as beautiful as the Saint-Gaudens now offered, will commemorate Barber, Morgan, Brenner, and other names familiar to all collectors.

Each medal will depict on the obverse, the finest work of the coin designer. The reverse will have data pertinent to his life and work. Of course, these famous designers did nice work in coins, but in medallics they could really give free rein to their imagination and ability. In a coin, the sculptor or designer is hampered by the small area of the coin, by the lettering and mottoes he is required to fit into the small area, and by the low relief, as the coins have to stack.

The Official Augustus Saint-Gaudens Medal is issued with the approval of the Trustees of The Saint-Gaudens Memorial in Cornish, New Hampshire. Two of the bronze medals, and the Number 1 and Number 2 of the serially numbered silver medals, will be put on permanent display in the Memorial Museum. These will be seen by thousands of visitors each year.

Now, to describe the Augustus Saint-Gaudens Medal,

OBVERSE: One of the finest medallic works of Saint-Gaudens, done by him in 1892, perhaps at the height of his career, for the Worlds Columbian Exposition. This medal is a private award medal, and as such, is very rare. It is Saint-Gaudens magnificent interpretation of the Discovery of America, showing Columbus stepping on the soil of the New World. Columbus' arms are outstretched, in humble gratitude to the Creator, for making his long voyage successful. A plaster cast of this Columbus is on display in the Memorial.

REVERSE: A depiction of Saint-Gaudens beautiful home and studio "Aspet", in Cornish, New Hampshire, where he lived, worked, and died in 1907. In the sky over the house, like a setting sun, is shown his famous Roman date Double Eagle, acknowledged the most beautiful American coin. This is truly an artistic presentation, as the sun did set on the famous sculptor's career the same year he designed the coin.

The Saint-Gaudens medal is being struck by The Metal Arts Company of Rochester, New York, master craftsmen in bronze and other metals. Any town, city, coin club, etc. desiring to commemorate some event with anything from a token to the finest medal, will do well to contact this company.

The Saint-Gaudens medal will be of 3 inch diameter, as all COIN MEDALS to follow. It weighs about 7½ ounces in bronze, and the .999 pure silver medal, being of the same thickness, weighs over 8 ounces. The silver medals will be serially numbered on the edge, and the issue will be limited to not over 5000. This is only one-half the number of Hawaii Half Dollars minted, and with the wide-spread interest COIN MEDALS will have, I can sincerely predict the Saint-Gaudens silver medal will be more difficult to obtain in a few years than the coin mentioned.

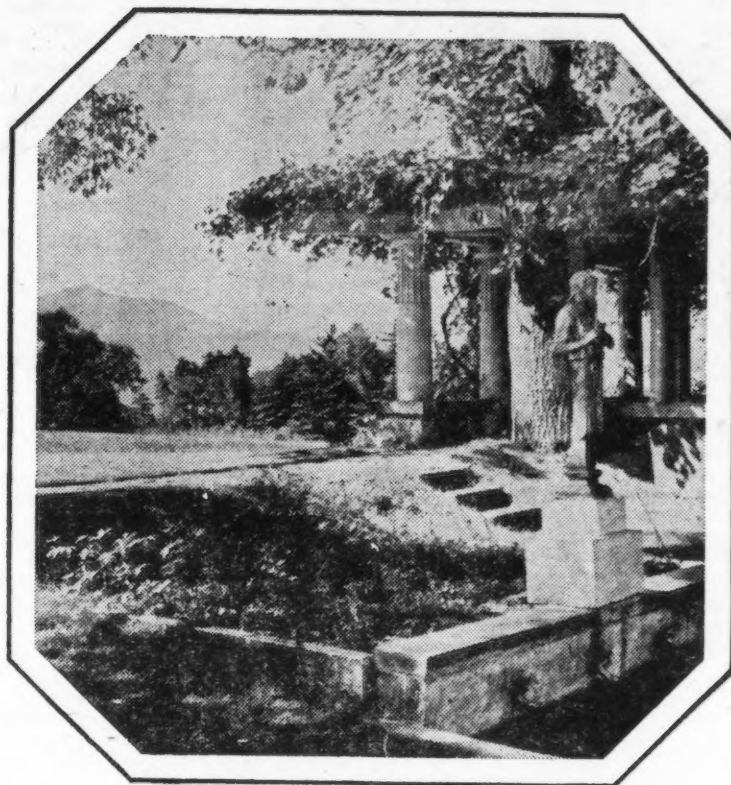

You can order now, for delivery in about 30 days.

The bronze medal is $5.50, or two for $10.00.

With appropriate holders and stands to be available later, two medals will afford a simultaneous view of the obverse and reverse.

Introductory price on the silver medal is a comparatively low $27.50

So we suggest you order now, as it has been proven that the first silver medals in a series are the most difficult to obtain later. Silver medal orders will receive acknowledgement of the order, with indication of the serial number of your medal.

SAINT - GAUDENS MUSEUM AT CORNISH NEW HAMPSHIRE

Illustrated above, is a corner of Saint-Gaudens studio in his former Home "Aspet". Every coin collector should visit this Memorial to our greatest sculptor, when his vacation takes him to the New Hampshire area. Therein, you will see many of his works.

The Memorial is directly across the Connecticut River from the beautiful town of Windsor, Vermont, and you drive across the river through one of the longest covered bridges in the world.

An art critic once said of the Memorial, "There is nothing about the Museum more important than just its enforcement of the deep sincerity, the high integrity of sculpture as Saint-Gaudens practiced it. I think of the Museum as upholding a fine standard. It is full of charm and beauty but most of all it seems to me to embody the conscience of a great artist".

The Memorial is open to the public from May 30 to October 15.

For The Ladies OnlyMilady To Be Queen At Atlanta A.N.A. Convention

Take note, wives of coin collecting conventioners! Are you weary of trudging along with your numismatic husband, —and finding yourself a numismatic widow at conventions?

Bachelor gals, do you miss out in the vacation fun of conventions because you hesitate to arrive alone in a strange city, find your lonely way around in a large hotel. Are you too timid to join other folks enthusiastically chatting about coins and convention doings?

Take heart, ladies! Start packing now for your pleasure trip to the A.N.A.'s 70th Annual Convention. Feel lively anticipation in planning those four glorious vacation days, August 16 through 19, at the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel in Atlanta, Georgia, the heart itself of southern hospitality.

The ladies' convention committees are planning for your pleasure, and you won't have time to be bored or lonely. Attend the usual convention activities if you wish, —see the superb exhibits, shop around at the record-breaking dealers' bourse tables, attend the short business sessions, the lively auction session conducted by Jim Kelly of World Numismatics, Inc., the excellent Educational Program. Of course, you must stay for the reception and banquet on Saturday evening.... informal, and prizes!.... and followed by professional act and dancing.

Not interested in the numismatic sessions? Then come with us on the fascinating sightseeing tours of the city....too many to mention here.

"1) Clarify present law or regulations for the mutual benefit of coin collectors, coin dealers, and Treasury Department officials and their field agents responsible for enforcement of laws covering coinage.

"2) Provide bona fide coin collectors and numismatic dealers with a clear set of instructions covering what they may and may not legally import, purchase, sell, hold, and display."

"No time limit has been placed on the committee's final report," said Dodson. "After review and approval by the A.N.A. executive board, it is planned to submit the committee's recommendations to the Secretary of the Treasury with a request for favorable action."

Any other committee members, if any, will be named by Shroyer after he takes office as president, said Dodson.

COLLECTORS - DEALERS
COIN TRADE ADVERTISER

"FRIENDSHIP thru TRADING"

1 Court St.

Montpelier, Vt.

WHAT are the popular ways a collector has of obtaining coins for his or her collection? We think there are four, which are, trading, trade or buy, mail bid sales, or buying from a dealer or another collector.

We also believe that collectors should be able to make their collecting needs or trades known to other collectors throughout the U.S.A. and Canada.

COIN TRADE ADVERTISER has been designed to give you, the collector, this opportunity at the most reasonable rates possible. You will not be getting something for nothing, however, you will be letting other collectors know what you have to trade or want to buy, and at a cost low enough to afford and not take away from your budget you may have for your collection. We could think of no better way to serve the field of numismatics than giving all collectors the opportunity to let other collectors know what each had to trade or wanted to buy in order to complete a collection, and do it at low rates.

AS mentioned above, mail bid sales is one way a collector has of obtaining a coin or coins for his collection. Next to trading this is probably the most popular. Although previous advertising had not mentioned mail bid sales, in addition to trade, trade or buy, and wanted to buy advertisements, COIN TRADE ADVERTISER will accept mail bid advertising. This will be the ONLY form of selling that will appear in COIN TRADE ADVERTISER. We think you will agree that our prices for mail bid advertising are the lowest ever offered.

WE, like most, are interested in making a living, but more important, we are interested in numismatics and collectors. Many collectors have a coin or coins that they would like to trade or want to buy, but because of few contacts or other circumstances are unable to make the trade or buy to complete a collection. We stand ready to help you in completing your collection. COMPARE our rates, they are the lowest ever offered the collector. LOOK AT THE CHARTS BELOW, THEN USE THE HANDY SUBSCRIPTION AND AD FORM. DON'T DELAY, FIRST ISSUE TO BE MAILED 12 OCTOBER 1961.

U. S. Frigate "Constellation"

Souvenir Medals Struck
From Navy's First Ship

Good For Lifetime Admission to Frigate

Thousands of special copper medals, newly-minted from parts of the United States Frigate "Constellation", now berthed in Baltimore, will provide lifetime free admission to the Navy's oldest vessel for the fortunate owners.

The medals, struck from copper spikes used in the original construction of the ship in Baltimore in 1797, are being used to raise funds nationally for the restoration work required to put the "Constellation" in original condition. The medals are being distributed on the basis of one for each dollar donated.

Every dollar raised by this means will go towards replacing deteriorated planking, frames, masts, bulwarks and the hundreds of other items needed so that the "Constellation" can remain afloat and take her rightful place as a national shrine.

Completed several months before the famous U.S.F. "Constitution", the "Constellation" saw action on numerous occasions during the 18th and early 19th Century. She remained on the Navy's active list until 1955, and during World War II was the flagship of the Atlantic Fleet. A stout link with our heritage, the "Constellation's" preservation is felt to be a national responsibility.

Donations of a dollar, or multiples of a dollar, which will make the restoration possible, should be made to:

"Constellation", Baltimore, Md.

American Numismatic Association In 1911

The American Numismatic Association's official photograph for the Chicago convention August 28-31, 1911. The association had a total of 552 active members as of that date.

August 28-31, 1911. The association had a total of 552 active members as of that date.

Historian Keeps Check On All A.N.A. Members

There is a good reason why Jack W. Ogilvie, of Hollywood, California, is Historian of the American Numismatic Association.

He shuts his eyes against the commercial impact of Numismatics and with warm and very real concern, emphasizes the fraternal and sentimental side of the hobby.

It is his great desire to "keep tabs" on every member of the American Numismatic Association—from the oldest to the youngest.

He has received much praise and recognition from the organization for his work with General Secretary Lewis M. Reagan in locating numerous early members and either bringing them back into the fold or granting them their proper seniority if they had re-entered under a higher number.

"Among these names we find that grand old patriarch, John F. Jones, of Jamestown, N. Y., Number Six, and now an honorary member," Ogilvie pointed out.

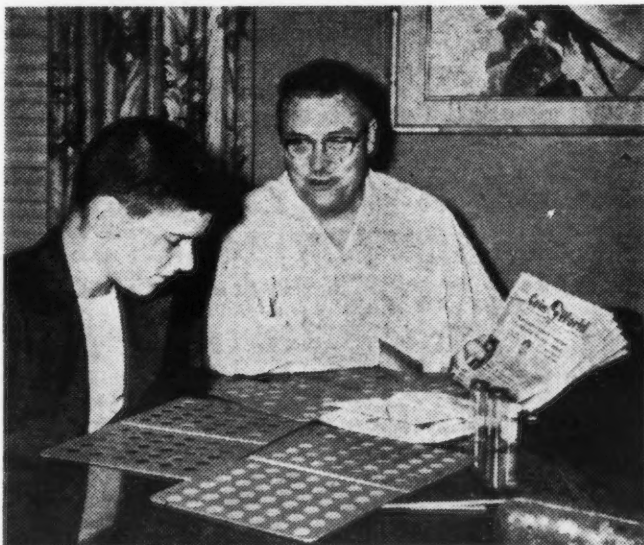

The historian is deeply grateful, he said, for all information about A. N. A. members.

"I am always interested in obtaining vital statistics or any news about the old-timers and prominent persons of the fraternity," he commented.

Historian Ogilvie, a native of Paducah, Ky., was raised astride the Mason-Dixon line between Texas and Oklahoma.

Coins Debased

English coinage reached its lowest point of debasement prior to 1947 during the reign of Edward VI (1547-1553).

Historian Helps A Friend

Jack W. Ogilvie of Hollywood, Calif., historian of the American Numismatic Association, is interested in each and every one of the more than 22,000 members of the organization—from the oldest to the youngest. Here he aids Mark Templeton, Coin World subscriber, and son of the director of television's Rawhide series. Mark is a beginning collector, but this only serves to enhance his enthusiasm.

The theatrical bug bit him at an early age and he migrated to Hollywood where he aspired to become a motion picture writer.

He soon joined the editorial department at Universal Studios and in time became one of the top flight film editors of the industry. He has been a producer and director but never saw one of his scripts on the screen.

He became interested in coin collecting in 1935 and joined the A.N.A. soon thereafter. He will receive the 25-year membership award at the coming convention. This award was suggested by Ogilvie himself, and established by the association in 1947.

His collection specialties are coins of the San Francisco mint and Canadian. He feels that everyone should concentrate on certain specialties, study these, and become a numismatist instead of just a collector.

Jack became historian in a somewhat unusual manner. He met Lewis M. Reagan and Lloyd Gettys while attending the first California state convention. The trio entered into a discussion as to how the A.N.A. got started, who started it and who was Number One.

With this idea as a premise, Ogilvie put together a story which later appeared in the August, 1948, The Numismatist as "Early Members of the A.N.A."

Farran Zerbe, historian at that time, liked the article and suggested that Jack be named to succeed him. Ogilvie accepted the appointment only after the demise of the beloved "dean of American numismatists."

He has held the office since 1950. At the 1953 Dallas convention, he was awarded the Medal of Merit mostly because of yeoman service in conjunction with General Secretary Reagan in clarifying and straightening out the membership roster from Number One, Dr. George F. Heath, to numbers in the three thousands. Ogilvie maintains a duplicate file on all prominent members, ex-officials and famous numismatists from the founding of the organization to date.

Ogilvie is presently writing a series for The Numismatist "The A.N.A. and its Presidents."

Rebuilt Atlanta Captures Sunshine

Atlanta's great leader, Henry Grady, said during the reconstruction period following the War Between the States: "... from the ashes he (General Sherman) left us in 1864 we have raised a brave and beautiful city; that somehow or other we have caught the sunshine in the bricks and mortar of our homes and have builded therein not one ignoble prejudice or memory."

The Catalogue of the Chas. W. Cowell Collection of Gold Coins

Is now in preparation. It will soon be ready, and will be somewhat more elaborate than any catalogue I have yet issued. I shall endeavor to make it in appearance worthy of the grand array of coins it will offer. It will contain ABOUT A THOUSAND GOLD COINS, BESIDES OTHER INTERESTING COINS IN SILVER AND COPPER. Catalogues absolutely free. If not on my mailing list, please write for a copy, even if you do not intend to bid.

I also want an opportunity to serve you whether you desire to buy or sell anything in coins. I have a good, representative stock of coins—not the largest in the world—but everything the average collector may want. Rarities sell as fast as we obtain them, so let me file your want list. After a fair trial you will find my methods to compare most favorably with those of any other market.

Medal Of 1911

Gold Big Help To Dahlonga

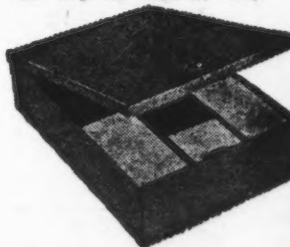

Dahlonga, Ga., visitors next week during the American Numismatic Association convention, will read with interest two historical excerpts.

The first one comes from the September, 1837, Lumpkin County grand jury presentments:

"We consider our own gold region at this time occupying a high destiny and possessing the means in a great measure to relieve the embarrassed situation of the monetary affair of the county. Every Dwt (pennyweight) of Gold taken from the mines will give the county a dollar of sound currency not to be affected by the failure of banks, of large commercial houses, or of the mistaken policy of the Government in adopting the Benton policy."

Cain's History of Lumpkin County quotes part of the above excerpt, explaining it with: "In the year 1837 this country was in the grip of a great panic. The mint at Dahlonga was also in course of construction."

Top NCW Entrant Wins In Spite Of Profession

Ed Neuce, Morgantown, W. Va., who won top honors in the individual classification of the 1961 National Coin Week competition, shares some of his winning secrets here:

By Ed Neuce

How does one go about submitting a successful entry in the annual American Numismatic Association sponsored National Coin Week?

That is a question I never dreamed I would have the pleasure of answering, but the recent announcement by Dolly-Maude Harris, National Coin Week chairman, that my entry in this year's competition had won first place gives me that opportunity.

Of course, winning first place as an individual gave me one of the most pleasurable shocks I have ever received. However, I was equally shocked because of the fact that I am a newspaper reporter. Being a reporter made my job (I call it a job because of lack of another ready word) more difficult than it would have been to someone out of the field of newspaper reporting.

First of all, it's seldom that a newspaper will print a news item that features one of its employees, and, secondly, competition newspapers will very rarely, if ever, print an item written by a reporter from another newspaper.

Had I not been a reporter, I could have (not bragging) tripled National Coin Week publicity in this section (Morgantown and Westover, W. Va.) of the country. I was unable to get a word printed in the competition papers, which includes one daily and about five weeklies within a radius of 12 miles.

I offer the above information for the use of collectors who have been hesitating but who maybe next year will join with the rest of us and enter National Coin Week competition. Later I will explain how to take advantage of your non-newspaper position and really rack-up the publicity, but first a few words on how to prepare an entry.

My entry was pasted into an ordinary 98 cent scrapbook, obtainable at any five and dime store. The first two pages were confined to a typewritten description of the material to be found inside.

Starting with page three, the remainder of the scrapbook was covered with news clippings and photographs, all written or taken during National Coin Week. I tried to keep the entry as neat as possible, although, if I recall correctly, neatness did not have value toward points in the contest.

I began arranging for participation in National Coin Week competition approximately one month before the contest got underway. Among other things, I arranged to speak on "Coins of Yesteryear"

Meridian To Plan For Show

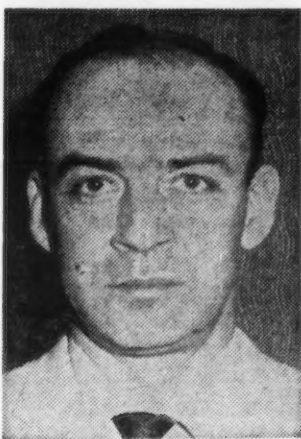

Two major items of business occupied the discussion hours of the recent meeting of the Meridian, Miss., Coin Club with the fall coin show being foremost plus the coming American Numismatic Association convention in Atlanta.

Dates for the fall show were to be set in the near future.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Kaiser, and family, Mrs. Mack Currie, and Mrs. Willie Arnesen are planning to go to Atlanta for the national convention. Several other members have expressed an interest in attending.

A coin swap was also a feature of the meeting which was to be held in the Lamar hotel.

MENTION "COIN WORLD" IN ANSWERING ANY AD

Ed Neuce

at a joint meeting of local Boy Scout Troops, at the annual Spring Meeting of the Morgantown Friends of the Library, and at the organizational meeting of the West Augusta Coin Club of Terra Alta, W. Va.

All of these speaking engagements were highlighted with a display of coins and currency, and were followed by a question and answer period which turned out to be the real highlight of each appearance. Following each talk, I submitted an article to my paper for publication. I kept my name out of the articles as much as possible and played up the Coin Week angle to its fullest, which is as it should have been.

Had I not been a reporter, I could have rearranged these articles, taken several different pictures, and submitted them to every paper in this area, and I feel sure that each paper would have printed everything submitted, but, as previously stated, I was confined to one newspaper.

This is where the non-newspaperman has the advantage, and I hope you all use this advantage during National Coin Week.

If you feel that public speaking is not for you, then do this. Write as many articles on coins and currency possible, take plenty of pictures, and submit a different article and picture to each newspaper every day during the week-long event.

Don't confine your efforts to newspapers, either, remember your radio and television stations want news too. That was another publicity angle I could not take advantage of, due to my position.

If you are reluctant to put your coins and currency in a store window for display, do as I did and display them only where you are speaking. When arranging for speaking engagements, remember all the civic clubs in your town because they are always eager to hear someone speak on a subject as up-to-date and as interesting as this hobby of ours can be.

Talk to your newspaper editors, radio and television station managers, before National Coin Week comes around. You'll find they are very interested in getting all the news possible and will cooperate with you in all ways. A word of advice, when submitting an article for publication, always have it typewritten and double spaced. This makes it easier for the proof reader or the person who must edit your article. The less work you leave for the newspaper, the more chance you have of getting the article published. A talk with the editor and the managers will prove to be of great value, since they will explain just how copy should be submitted for their particular needs.

Start planning now for National Coin Week, 1962. Enter the competition, not only with the thought of winning an award, but also with the thought of getting as much publicity as possible to further numismatics.

If you have any questions on this subject, write me at the Dominion-News, Morgantown, West Virginia, or look me up at the American Numismatic Association convention at Atlanta.

Election Heads Business Agenda

Election of officers will be one of the highlights of the American Numismatic Association convention in Atlanta with Rear Admiral O. H. Dodson, USN (Ret.) to be succeeded as head of the largest numismatic organization in the world by Ohioan C. C. Shroyer, of Fremont.

Shroyer is unopposed for election to the post.

Other key officials who are unopposed for office are P. K. Anderson, Gotebo, Okla., first vice president; Herbert M. Bergen, Fullerton, Calif., second vice president, and Lewis M. Reagan, Wichita, Kansas, general secretary.

Both Harold R. Klein, Hinsdale, Ill., present treasurer, and Eldridge G. Jones, Washington, D. C., are seeking the treasurer's position.

Sixteen men ran for election to the five Board of Governors posts. They include Harold H. Berk, Warren, Ohio; Dr. C. A. Bolt, Marshville, N. C.; Raymond Gallo, New York City; Charles M. Johnson, Long Beach, Calif.; Ray O. Lefman, Kansas City, Mo.

Robert G. McArthur, Oakland, Calif.; Elmer G. Nelson, Grand Island, Neb.; Vernon L. Oblisk, Bradenton, Fla.; John J. Pittman, Rochester, N. Y.; Matt H. Rothert, Camden, Ark.

E. Ward Russell, Silver Spring, Md.; Arthur Siper, Drexel Hill, Pa.; Ben Stocker, Detroit, Mich.; Leo G. Terry, Indianapolis, Ind.; Earl Glen Whitehead, Los Angeles, Calif.; William N. Worth, Portland, Oregon.

Election results will be announced at a business session of the Atlanta convention; for the first time in history ballots were counted by an independent tabulating firm. August 1 was the deadline for post-marking ballots.

The sleek, modern Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel, which exemplifies life in fast-moving, industrial Detroit, will be headquarters for the joint American Numismatic Association - Canadian Numismatic Association convention in 1962.

Earl Schill Head Of Next A.N.A. Convention

Earl Schill will be general chairman of the 1962 joint American Numismatic Association-Canadian Numismatic Association convention, to be held in Detroit at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel next fall, it was announced from the Motor City today.

Schill, a prominent Detroit numismatist and life member of the A.N.A., is a manufacturer and distributor of coins, supplies and stamps with headquarters at 1434 Farmer Street, Detroit 26.

He is a member of the Professional Numismatists Guild, the American Numismatic Society, the Michigan State Numismatic Society and many other numismatic and philatelic organizations.

Serving with Schill will be Ben Stocker as bourse chairman; Henry Burns and Edward Stanners as exhibits chairman; Admiral O. H. Dodson, USN (Ret.), publicity chairman, and Pierre Palmentier, banquet chairman.

Mrs. Anna Stocker and Mrs. Marge Schilling will head plans for ladies' activities. Al Polder will arrange hotel accommodations; Mrs. Nedra Gonzales is registration chairman and Dan Parker, protection chairman.

Club Joins In Convention

The Button Gwinnett Coin Club, Lawrenceville, Ga., is aiding the Atlanta Coin Club in welcoming delegates to the 70th annual American Numismatic Association convention.

Headed by Joseph N. Allen, Smyrna, Ga., as president, the club meets the first Monday and third Thursday of the month at the courthouse in Lawrenceville at 7:30 p.m. It was formed August 19, 1960, and has a membership of 91 adults and six juniors.

In addition to participation in the A.N.A. convention, the club is planning lectures on foreign and American coins, and some slide showings.

The club will present a brilliant uncirculated $20 gold coin at the Atlanta convention as a special prize; it has purchased bourse tables for club use, and made a donation to Victor L. LaVelle. A Christmas banquet is one of the social highlights of the club year.

Larry Gunter, Lawrenceville, Ga., is vice president; Mrs. Bessie H. Allen, Smyrna, Ga., is secretary - treasurer; Mrs. Larry Gunter, Lawrenceville, librarian; Gartrell Nash, Lawrenceville, and Joe S. Nesbit, Norcross, Ga., are members of the board of governors.

Club Holds Display At Kenosha, Wis., Bank

Civil War coins and currency are being displayed in the Kenosha, Wis., First National Bank lobby, a project of the Kenosha Coin Club.

The display recently won first prize at the Numismatics of Wisconsin convention at Milwaukee.

Dress Comfortably

A.N.A. conventioners who plan to take the special tour to Dahlonga for gold-panning at the museum should wear comfortable play clothes and sturdy shoes, officials remind.

Col. James Curtis Will Leave Board Of Governors

Col. James W. Curtis, Springfield, Ill., imminent Mid West numismatist, member of the American Numismatic Association's Board of Governors, will leave the board this year after a two-year term of contribution to the growth of the organization.

Winning Club Flyin' High

A coin club that meets semi-monthly in the shadow of Pikes Peak reached the highest point in the American Numismatic Association's annual National Coin Week contest by taking first place in Class A for clubs with large memberships.

The Zebulon Pike Coin Club, of Colorado Springs, Colo., is so elated over winning first place in the national competition that several members will charter a plane to fly to Atlanta to accept the award in person.

Headed by President Ralph F. Cleaver, the delegation promised to show some of the samples of the hard work and planning which went into the exhibits and the promotional efforts which resulted in signing up 62 new members for a total enrollment now of 208 as of June 30th.

Other officers who assisted in the feat are: Henry Stark, 1st vice president; Howard Heninger, 2nd vice president; George Middle, secretary, and Jo Farrand, treasurer. Whole hearted cooperation of the membership was a major contributing factor, the president added.

Churches Plentiful

Atlanta has over 600 churches embracing over 46 creeds and denominations with membership exceeding 380,000.

Museum Art-Filled

The Atlanta Art Association Museum contains famous paintings, reproductions of Greek sculpture and other art objects.

In preparing the scrap book for submission to the A.N.A. judging committee, the photographic work of Leonard Campbell was outstanding and the use of his coin store facilities was freely given.

Two junior members, Marianne and Christine, daughters of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Chester Mulawa, were especially active by giving coin talks and by untiring effort in the preparation of the scrap book for the official entry.

"Hard work" is the summation given by President Cleaver in outlining the National Coin Week educational program.

"Preparing any kind of an entry takes a lot of time, thought, interest and cooperation. We had this, not only from our members but also from the newspapers, radio and TV stations and other sources too numerous to mention," the president added.

The A.N.A. convention is expected to learn a lot more about the Zebulon Pike Coin Club during the several days visit in Atlanta according to members planning their trip.

New Arkansas Club To Meet

The recently organized Saline County, Ark., Coin Club has scheduled its next meeting for Tuesday, August 15, starting at 7:30 p.m. in Benton, Ark.

Information regarding the place of meeting may be obtained from any of the newly elected officers, headed by Jimmy Turnage as president. Others, chosen at a session held at the Home Supply Company in Benton, included Howard Simerson, vice president, and June McGee, secretary-treasurer.

At the same meeting, a constitution and by-laws were adopted. Interested collectors are invited to attend the August session.

Cleaver Again Club President

Ralph Cleaver was re-elected by acclamation to head the Zebulon Pike Coin Club of Colorado Springs, Colo., at a recent meeting.

Other officers include Henry Stark, first vice president; Howard Heninger, second vice president; George Middle, secretary, and Mrs. Jo Farrand, treasurer.

Panhandle Club Picks Project, Unifies, Wins

An explanation of how the 40 member Panhandle Coin Club, Chadron, Nebraska, won the top spot in the Class B competition for National Coin Week is given by Bonnie Walters, secretary-treasurer of the club. Her complete report follows:

Panhandle Coin Club (so named after our area of Nebraska which forms the "panhandle") was first formed in the latter months of 1959. Membership grew slowly, for although there are many dedicated collectors in the area, no attempt had ever been made to band them together.

Western Nebraska is a country of great distances and the towns are small. By March of 1960 club membership totalled 25, with some members traveling 35 miles to club meetings.

In April of that year, with Chadron's 75th anniversary to be celebrated in August, the club decided to design and issue a commemorative medal for the event.

This decision contributed more to the growth and close cooperation of the club than any other single factor. (At this point, let us recommend to every other club—get yourself a difficult project and regardless of how many people tell you it is impossible, push it through to completion.)

That the project was successful, is now history. The club paid all expenses and donated over $1,700.00 to the Chadron Hospital fund! More than this — it gave every club member the confidence which was needed for the next big endeavor.

Guided by members who were already in the A.N.A. the club joined the national organization and also the Nebraska Numismatic Association. In January, 1961, the board of governors and the president of the club proposed that a concerted effort might win a place in National Coin Week competition.

It was felt that our club (now numbering above 40) was too small and too far from the concentrated numismatic centers to stand much of a chance, but plans were made to go after a national place — and here is how we did it.

The president appointed a chairman for National Coin Week, and he was instructed to write to Dolly-Maud Harris for instructions, since none of the club members knew exactly what had to be done. When the information came on how to earn the various points, the club went to work.

were made: chairman for NCW, publicity director, reporter and NCW coin show chairman. Under these officers, various club members were appointed to specific jobs.

Since we had members from five different towns, each one of those members was to keep stories in their local papers about N.C.W. activities and at the same time, the local radio station and TV station were approached.

A great part of the club's success was due to the unceasing and whole-hearted cooperation of radio station KCSR in Chadron and KDUH-TV in Hay Springs, Nebraska.

At the same time, the local papers gave us front page stories and publicity for our show during N.C.W. Several public discussions on radio gave the general public some knowledge of what we were attempting, and coin displays in the local banks and other business establishments earned us welcome publicity.

Handbills were printed and distributed within a radius of sixty miles, and when some members went to the Nebraska State Numismatic Association convention at Lincoln, Nebraska, they took handbills with them, together with small cards which we had printed. We glued 1961-D cents on these cards and they created a great amount of interest.

This publicity was also distributed at Scottsbluff, Nebraska, 125 miles away, where the Oregon Trail Coin Club held a fine show during National Coin Week, and in which our club members participated.

Our own coin show was successful beyond our wildest guesses. Nothing of this kind had ever been attempted in northwest Nebraska before, so, although we were hopeful of success, we had our fingers crossed. Instead of a few members exhibits, though, we ended up with over 80 fine collections representing most of the countries of the world, and we had three bourse tables.

Attendance was high and we gave away 500 of our little cards with the Lincoln cents on them. Free coffee and doughnuts helped out and our judges were the best. Elmer C. Nelson, now a candidate for governor in the A.N.A., drove several hundred miles to act as head judge and did a fine, competent job.

During this time, we had demonstrations and histories of coins at our club meetings, with good attendance from the general public, and we all gained in numismatic knowledge.

We had several members join

Indiana Winners Pull Together

Coin displays had to compete for attention of the passers-by with wallpaper, women's purses, men's suits, greeting cards, wire recorders, pianos and a lot of other consumer goods in LaPorte, Ind., but they did it to the tune of first place in Class C of the American Numismatic Association National Coin Week awards!

How the members of the "City of the Lakes Coin Club" took such high honors is related by Duncan A. Stevens, president of the club, in the following special report to Coin World:

It took all the members pulling together as a team to win the first prize, along with "faith", and a love for fair competition.

For pointers on how to prepare a prize winning entry, I know of no special secret on how to do it, but here is how we, here at City of Lakes, LaPorte, Indiana did it.

First and foremost, I picked an energetic chairman, who has a great love of coin collecting, and and once getting an assignment carries it through with the same zest and zeal as though in pursuit of a rare date coin.

Secondly, getting as many members as possible to prepare a display. It is not the value of a display that counts most, but rather that you, yourself, found the coins and wrote something about each of them. This shows that a person is a true numismatist.

Third, we contacted the banks and stores of all types for permission to put our displays in their windows, explaining to them about National Coin Week and its purpose.

Fourth, we contacted the newspapers and radio stations for publicity and personal appearances.

Fifth, by having the mayor sign a proclamation declaring our city a participant in recognizing National Coin Week.

Sixth explaining to anyone that would listen the purpose of National Coin Week, and by doing this we increased our membership roll to what it is at present.

Seventh, by taking pictures of all the displays, and having them printed in the newspapers and coin publications.

Eighth, by compiling a list of all displays, along with photos and sending them in a beautiful covered brochure to Dolly-Maude Harris, the worthy chairman of National Coin Week, and last but not least, waiting in hopeful suspense for the judges' decision.

We hope this will help clubs throughout the country in future contests.

South Bend Club To Trade

The recently organized South Bend, Ind., Crown and Gold Society was scheduled to hold its August session on Thursday, August 10, at St. Joseph Bank, Darden Road and U. S. Highway 31, starting at 7:30 p.m. Coin trading will replace an auction for this meeting according to secretary John M. Paxson.

At the last session, three more Charter members were accepted, with Charter members due to be closed at the September meeting, Paxson said.

The Crown and Gold Society specializes in the study of European crowns and all gold coins, but also has general numismatic interests.

Jacksonville Election Soon

The Jacksonville, N.C., Coin Club will celebrate its first birthday anniversary in September with a wiener roast at its regular meeting, at which time its 1962 officers will take over. They were slated to be elected at the August session on Monday, August 7, at the Jack Amyette Recreation Center in Jacksonville.

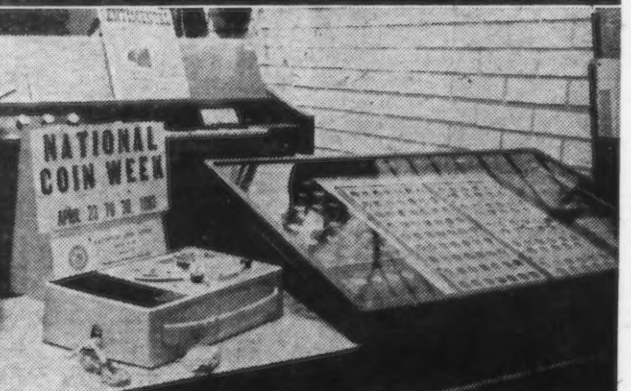

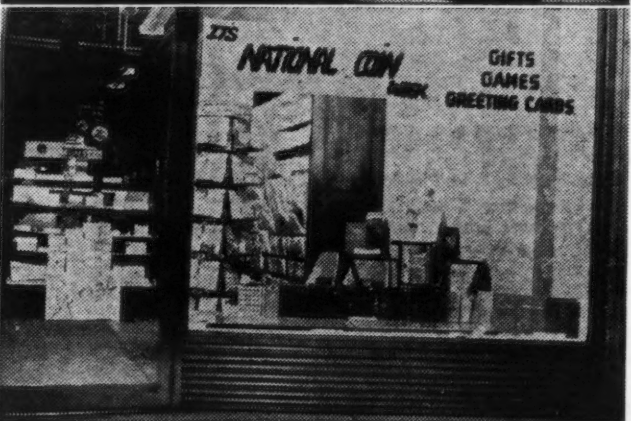

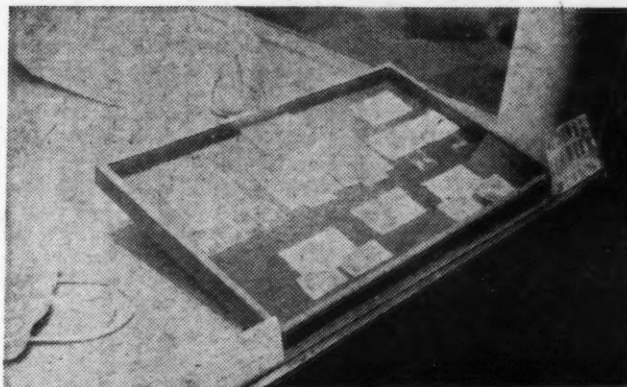

The club has been on a membership campaign, hoping to reach the 100 mark by September. By mid-July, the total was 73, including 62 senior members and 11 juniors, compared to five at the start last fall.

In addition to the regular meeting last Monday, August 7, a "Swap" night is scheduled for Monday, August 21.

Club To Be Host To Arkansas State Meet

The Pine Bluff, Ark., Coin Club, formed only last May, is scheduled to act as host for the quarterly meeting of the Arkansas Numismatic Society, slated for this Sunday, August 6, at the Simmons National Bank building in Pine Bluff, according to an announcement from Mrs. J. P. Willis of Little Rock, state secretary.

The State Association has about 300 members.

Double Eagle Has Open House

The Double Eagle Coin Club of Southhampton, Pa., has scheduled a 12-hour Open House program for next Sunday, August 13, to be held at the Southampton Fire Company Hall, 925 Street Road, from 12:30 p.m. to midnight.

Special features are to include an auction, bourse, and door awards including a 1909-S VDB Lincoln cent. The public is invited, and refreshments will be available.

The Double Eagle club was organized in October, 1958, and has grown to a membership of 162, with an average attendance of 110 at meetings which are held the first and third Sundays of each month at the Fire Hall. Officers include:

E. E. Oustermann, Trevese, Pa., president; Bill Grichin, Philadelphia, vice president; Walt Stepek, Philadelphia, treasurer; Harry S. Smith, Trenton, N. J., recording secretary; Bob Herman, Philadelphia, corresponding secretary, and Walt Barber, Philadelphia, sergeant at arms.

the A.N.A. during N.C.W. and also recruited some new members for our own club.

Coin World, national weekly coin publication, helped our club immensely by publishing stories and pictures for us and furnishing 300 copies with no charge for distribution at our show.

After all the weeks of planning and effort, we finally put our scrapbook together and mailed it. In June we were notified that we had placed in the national competition but did not dream that we had won first place!

It goes without saying that we were over-joyed with the results of the contest and we are deeply grateful to Dolly-Maude Harris, who answered all our queries during the contest with prompt and friendly letters of advice and encouragement.

To sum it up, we found these things were necessary to win an award: leadership, planning (and more planning), cooperation, determination, dedication (to numismatics, so that others realize your sincerity), knowledge of numismatics (to be able to correctly inform the public), and last but not least, sincerity of purpose.

The club is already starting plans for next year, for the challenge of winning a second award is even greater than the first attempt!

Painesville Changes Site

Meetings of the Painesville, Ohio, Coin Club are now being held at a new location in the Citizens Saving and Loan building on Main street in that community it was announced by Norman Davis, newly elected president.

Children To Get Special Tour At Atlanta Convention

Storyland, Atlanta, Ga., is a must for the small fry who will be attending the American Numismatic Association convention.

Convention officials have arranged a special tour for children under 12 years of age for Friday, August 18, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The youngsters will leave in air-conditioned, chaperoned buses to visit Mathis' Dairy, a fascinating place for children with cookies and real, honest-to-goodness fresh cow milk, Grant Park Zoo, Storyland and other points of interest.

Parents may accompany the children on the tour; there will be a small charge for each person. Buses will return to the hotel at 5 p.m.

At Storyland there will be amusement rides, lunch at the Gingerbread House and stories to delight every young heart.

Storyland is a little village of magic and imagination at every turn—Little Boy Blue sleeps on as the sheep and cows munch hay; little Miss Muffet eats her curds and whey while the spider looks on. Solid Humpty Dumpty sits as the children frolic with live animals.

There will be Jack and Jill, the three bears, the Old Woman who lives in a shoe, little Red Riding Hood and 21 life size figures of Mother Goose characters.

Librarian Achieves Much In Usage, Improvements

Members of the American Numismatic Association used 700 more books last year—a total of 3,139—and kept both Librarian John J. Gabarron, of Lincoln, Nebr., and his "unofficial" assistant, his wife, Bymadette, busy nearly a full working day every day throughout the entire year.

The Gabarrons processed more than 2,700 packages, coming and going, wrote 644 letters, and watched the number of borrowers of books rise to 1,389—300 more than the previous year.

Under the nurture of the Gabarrons, who have watched the use of the library climb steadily since they assumed responsibility for it, the library facilities themselves have been expanded.

Gabarron has constructed many additional shelves, rewired them for better visibility and expanded the total library space from 500 to 750 square feet. The books are easily accessible and receive "tender, loving" care with proper dusting and attention.

At the present time there are 20 books at the binders now with a total of 228 volumes rebound during the past year. Many more books need binding, the Gabarrons report, but the work cannot be done because of their brittle condition. Scarce books are not photo-duplicated because of the great expense.

Donations and purchase have added 59 new books and 20 duplicates.

American Numismatic Association Librarian John J. Gabarron and Mrs. Gabarron, of Lincoln, Nebr., will be displaying the newest in numismatic literature at the Atlanta convention as they greet their many friends at the traditional library exhibit.

mies—", the Gabarrons point out, "will protect the books from further damage."

The Mr.-and-Mrs. Library team extend a cordial invitation to A.N.A. members to visit the library for themselves if they are in the Lincoln area and inspect the progress that has been made.

Gabarron has had a promotion within the past year; he has been named a fire inspector for the Bureau of Fire Prevention for the city of Lincoln, advanced from a firefighter.

They are anticipating the arrival of their fourth grandchild and will receive congratulations at Atlanta where they will preside at a display table for numismatic publications.

Gabarron, founder and first president of the Lincoln, Neb., Coin Club, is past president of Nebraska Numismatic Assn. He life member No. 279 and was awarded the medal of merit August 24, 1956.

He was a captain on the Lincoln fire department on engine No. 12—he has been a fireman for 18 years.

APPROVAL SHIPMENTS

We get in nice coins every day, because we pay fair prices. Also we pay the same prices to little old ladies and the most expert numismatists, we look at the coins, not the seller. But we are so busy actually buying and selling coins, that we never have time to list one-per cent of the coins that are for sale. These nice coins that we never list, go to my approval customers. So why not send me your want-list with a $10 or $20 deposit if you want ordinary G-F coins, and a $50 or $100, deposit if you collect Unc., Proof or rarer coins. Then you pay $10 or more a month on the coins you keep from my approval shipments, and I send more coins as your balance drops. The deposit you can apply in making final settlement, or I will refund anytime you ask.

Atlanta Founder Noted In Early A.N.A. Circles

John Joseph Gonzales, founder of the Atlanta, Ga., Coin Club, left an empty place in the numismatic circles of that city when he died June 29, 1956, in a private nursing home.

He was the forerunner of the officials who are today so hard at work preparing to host the American Numismatic Association's annual convention.

An early member of the American Numismatic Association (No. 2431) Gonzales served several years as district secretary of the A.N.A. representing Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee.

He organized and founded the Atlanta Coin Club in July, 1929, and held charter membership No. 1 as well as the distinction of serving as the charter president.

He continued his interest in numismatics and the coin club until his last illness.

September 2, 1897, he married Emma Bowie Gregory of Atlanta who died in February, 1955. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales attended many A.N.A. conventions.

The noted numismatist was born August 25, 1862, in Mobile, Ala., and after a period in Shubuta, Miss., moved to Atlanta more than 60 years ago where he was engaged in the grocery business.

He was president of the New York Coffee Company, and active in the growth and cultural life of Atlanta. He was a leading figure in the Atlanta Chess Association; the award for the winner of the annual chess tournament was named the John J. Gonzales trophy.

Dr. Fred P. Manget, close friend of the family, characterized Gonzales as a "gentleman of the old school."

Coin Club Displays At Cut Bank, Iowa

Cooperation of the members of the Cut Bank, Iowa, Coin Club was received by the banking officials of the First National Bank there when it held open house recently.

As a highlight of the grand opening, the coin club members had established an excellent display of coins.

The bank just opened for business earlier this year.

Representative

Eldridge G. Jones, of Washington, D. C., is District of Columbia representative for the American Numismatic Association.

P.N.G. Will Elect At A.N.A. Meeting

Changing officers will be the action of the members of the Professional Numismatists Guild at the Atlanta American Numismatic Association convention, August 16 to 19.

Election of the seven-man board is slated for the dealer organization's annual meeting. The board then chooses the four officers.

Arthur Conn, Melrose, Mass., is the 1960-61 president; Michael Kolman Jr., Cleveland, is first vice president; Sol Kaplan, Cincinnati, executive vice president; and James Ruddy, Johnson City, N. Y., secretary.

Directors include M. L. Kaplan, New York; Al Overton, Pueblo, Colo.; Earl Parker, San Francisco.

"Promoting better interest in the numismatic field," is goal of the 52-member organization, said executive vice president Sol Kaplan.

He said this is done in several ways including giving several awards for convention displays, by a rigid code of ethics for their own members, and a soon to be placed into action plan of scholarships.

P.N.G. awards the "top in show" prizes at the Penn-Ohio, M.A.N.A., and Central States conventions where the B. Max Mehl Memorial award is given to the top collector display.

At A.N.A. the Burton Saxton Memorial award is made for the best display of foreign coins.

In order to maintain the high standards established by the P.N.G., Kaplan said the organization has set a code of ethics. These include a six point list of obligations toward the public, and a four point list for dealings with fellow P.N.G. members.

A scholarship program is in the planning — an annual award is to go to a student to further his studies in the numismatic or related field.

"This may come about next year," Kaplan pointed out.

Organized in 1955 at the Dallas convention, a loose knit group of 10 dealers gathered around Abe Kosoff who had the idea of a dealer's organization.

Within a year more dealer members were brought together and the organization took on a more formal appearance. Officers were elected with Kaplan serving as the first president.

The dealer organization seeks new members, but the initial action has to come from the dealer himself, Kaplan said. There is a high standard of requirements, he warned.

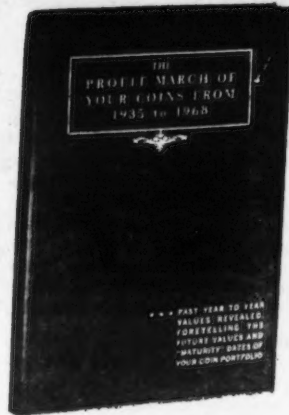

"We would be happy to receive the application of any full time dealer who intends to stay in numismatics," said Kaplan.

The requirements include: 60 per cent of the dealers' revenue must come from his coin business, he must show financial responsibility, and show $10,000 net worth.

The service to the dealer-members are: "block booking" at con-

Cyclorama One Of Atlanta's Greats

The 1961 Atlanta convention medal of the American Numismatic Association portrays the Cyclorama building, depicting the Battle of Atlanta as it took place in 1864, and the City of Atlanta's official seal with the date of the Atlanta Coin Club's organization. The medal was designed by Edwin Harrison, a charter member of the Atlanta Club. Medals may be ordered from the Convention Medal Committee, P. O. Box 234, Atlanta, Ga. The bronze medal costs $3, and the sterling silver pieces are priced at $5. Georgia residents must include three per cent sales tax.

The bulletins are used to notify the membership of robberies, holdups, altered dates; or generally to alert the members of wrongful activities in the field, Kaplan said.

Russian Rubles Road Rubble

Russian residents of Naberezhnaya Street in the city of Michurinsk, southeast of Moscow, U.S.S.R., recently found their road paved with gold after a hard rain!

Two years ago, the former residence of a Tsarist-era merchant on Naberezhnaya Street was renovated. Old brick stoves and plastered walls and ceilings were broken up. The rubble was dumped in the street.

Recently a bulldozer leveled the street. A day later, following the heavy rain, the roadway glittered with gold five and ten ruble coins dated 1899 and 1900.

The Michurinsk citizens who found the coins "took them immediately to the city police station," according to the newspaper Sovetskaya Rossiya, which complimented them on their honesty.

A SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT from "FOXY" . . .

WHAT?

I am taking my family for a 1-year trip.

WHERE?

Around the world. (Next year I'll go someplace else)

WHEN?

Starting in October.

WHY?

Health, fun, look for coins, get away from it all. Or, as Louis Armstrong said when asked what Jazz is: "If you have to ask, you'll never know".

WHO'LL TAKE CARE OF THINGS . . .

WELLES & CO., BOX 464, TOPEKA, KANSAS, has bought the exclusive U.S. distribution of the beautiful President Kennedy sterling silver medals. He also bought my home, and many other numismatic items. He looks a little like me, and is a darned nice fellow, so please write directly to him for anything.

MIKE KOLMAN, OF FEDERAL COIN EXCHANGE, CLEVELAND, OHIO, bought practically everything else I had in stock. He can give you wholesale prices on Vatican coin sets, Papal medals, Hawaii sets, enamelled coin jewelry, odd and curious money, paper money, CC double eagles, etc. He can fill orders on anything in numismatics (as everyone knows for many years), and he is enlarging his entire business.

My sincere thanks and good wishes to both of them.

NOTHING LEFT?

See me at Atlanta for VERY LOW prices on U. S. and foreign gold, books, my car, safes, Florida material, and the shirt on my back.

LEAVING THE COIN BUSINESS?

Of course not! I'll be sending lists of all the bargains I pick up to all my special friends.

P.S. All mail will be taken care of in Florida. I have NO outstanding obligations.

Convention Auctioneer Urges Prompt Mail Bids

Rare 1868 Large Cent

1793 Liberty Cap Cent

"Please rush your bid sheet by airmail," James Kelly of Dayton, Ohio, head of the American Numismatic Association auction in Atlanta, urged today.

Kelly, president of World Numismatiques, Inc., of Dayton, who catalogued and will sell rare United States, foreign, ancient coins, U. S. currency and medals at Atlanta, warned mail auction patrons speed was necessary in returning bid sheets.

"Due to circumstances beyond our control, the mailing of the catalogs for the A.N.A. sale was delayed approximately 10 days," Kelly explained. "There is still plenty of time if you send in your bid immediately," he said.

Bids must reach the World Numismatiques, Inc. offices at 333 West First Street, Dayton, 2, Ohio, on or before August 15. Bid sheets may be mailed directly to the Biltmore in Atlanta, Ga., site of the convention. They will be executed by noon on the day of the sale.

Material may be examined at the World Numismatiques office from August 7 through August 14 between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. or by appointment.

The 1961 A.N.A. auction material is outstanding in its variety—and reflects the emphasis on Civil War numismatic material—fractional currency, encased postage stamps, Civil War tokens, Confederate states currency, broken bank notes and an 1861 Confederate restrike, struck by J. W. Scott and Co.

A sizeable Canadian offering is being made during the first session of the sale.

United States material will include an 1868 large cent, less than six known, according to Cataloger Kelly who said the last specimen sold for $7,250. This one could bring $10,000 Kelly said.

There will be a 1793 Sh-14 Liberty Cap cent, valued at $2,500; a 1793 Sh-6 weath type with plain edge United States large cent (the consignor claims to have paid $2,500) and an 1856 flying eagle small cent.

Consignments for the sale come from coast to coast and from outside the country; there will be both United States and foreign gold sold.

The three sessions of the auction will be scheduled as follows: First session: Friday afternoon, 1 p.m., lots 1 to 600.

Second session: Friday evening, 7 p.m., lots 601 to 1248.

Third session: Saturday afternoon, 1 p.m., lots 1249 to the end of the sale.

Price lists of the sale, giving price realization on every coin, are available at $1 if they are ordered and paid for before the sale, Kelly said.

Cheese Brings Rare '09 Cents

"For Sale: 5 pounds of 4 year old aged cheddar cheese for 1 penny. The penny must be a 1909 Lincoln Head with initials—with date 1909-S VDB at Salty Joe's."

This classified advertisement caught the eye of Collector Charles L. Miller, of Muncie, Ind., during a recent trip to the upper peninsula in Wisconsin at a place called Sister Bay.

Miller stopped to pay a visit to Salty Joe — and found he sold fish as well as cheese. And furthermore, that he has received two 1909-S VDB's in exchange for his cheese.

Miller offered to buy them. Salty Joe said wryly:

"I have already sold them. Got $20 for one and $45 for the other."

A.N.A. Symbol Meaningful

New members of the American Numismatic Association soon learn the significance of the official American Numismatic Association seal.

First adopted in Chicago in 1929, at an A.N.A. convention, it has been used in various forms since the A.N.A. was founded.

The symbol shows a volume of ancient history under a numisma's student's lamp, meaning that science takes precedence as a true record of history and is superior to written history.

The lamp and book were proposals of Joseph Hooper, and published first in the April, 1892, The Numismatist, along with the motto, "de profundis," which means "out of the greatest depth."

"For several years I judged coin exhibitions until I found out what I've been missing!"

Texas Show Items To Be Sold

About 30 coin collections were expected to be on display at the San Angelo, Texas, Gun and Coin Show scheduled to be held on August 5 and 6 under the general guidance of R. V. McCarty, president of the local coin club.

Interest in the show was heightened by the requirement that all of the displays be offered for sale or trade during the two-day event. This was done with the thought that it would give some amateur collectors a chance to learn the value of their coins.

Atlanta Key City

A metropolitan population of over one million makes Atlanta one of the nation's key cities.

A.N.A. Panel

assistant to the editor of The Numismatist, is 22 years old in the A.N.A., 36 years old in the Commonwealth Edison Company (where electrical engineering is his vocation) and 59 years old according to birth records. He is a native of central Illinois and, except for periods of a few days now and then, his orbit has never taken him out of the state. He resides in the World's Largest Village (otherwise known as Oak Park) with his wife, Florence (A. N.A. No. 23460) and two of his three daughters.

Glenn's introduction to A.N.A. activities came when a past president induced him to take charge of the slide program in 1949, which position he held about 10 years. He has served as a member of the board of governors and as first vice president of A.N.A., was general chairman of the 1953 Central States convention and of the 1957 A.N.A. convention, and has held several other offices in local and regional numismatic organizations.

A chance visit to the PhilaMatic Center at Boys Town, Nebr., and acquaintance with its curator, D. O. Barrett, changed Smedley's collecting interest from coins to bank notes; and probably resulted in his attempts at numismatic writing.

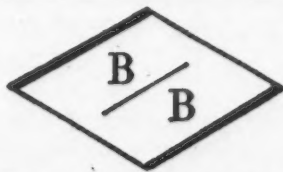

He volunteered to assist Editor Bradfield at the Portland convention. His regular duties include editing the "Club News", compiling the annual index to The Numismatist, writing "Numismatic Vignettes" and an occasional editorial, and answering part of the miscellaneous inquiries which the Editor receives. He seems to enjoy the work and makes only on complaint—earning a living takes too much time from numismatic activities.

Numismatic awards conferred upon him include the Medal of Merit by A.N.A., Central States Numismatic Society, and Chicago and Oak Park Coin Clubs; and the A.N.A. Farran Zerbe Award and life membership by board action.

Arthur Sipe, Drexel Hill, Pa., is a member of the American Numismatic Association's Board of Governors.

A Weekly Report To Our Readers

Statistics And Interesting Information from your COIN WORLD Circulation Dept.

CECIL WATKINS

New Int'l Postal Rates Hit C.W.

If you live or buy your Coin World in Canada or any other country outside the confines of the United States, new postal rates went into effect July first. (Our notification came in the July 31st mail.)

All countries outside the United States are affected by the new International Postal rates and as you expected, the change in the rates is upward.

Previously subscribers in Canada were enjoying a special second class newspaper mailing rate based on zone six of the United States rates plus several special handling requirements but the change in the International Postal Rates takes all Canada-bound newspapers out of that class and places them in a two cents for the first two ounces and one cent for each additional two ounces or fraction class.

A normal edition of Coin World weighs 8 ounces (your 80 page issue this week weighed in at 10 ounces). You can readily realize that with the extra postage, plus special stamping for Canada, almost all of the present $4.50 price of your subscription is going for postage.

Excerpts From Interesting Letters

Sfc. Marion Quinn, APO New York, New York, states: I GOOFED . . . Was transferred from Georgia to Germany and I failed to notify you of my change of address. I have been at a big loss without my Coin World. When I reported in here I didn't mind so much them telling me I would have to wait for my pay, but when the mail clerk didn't have my Coin World, it got me down."

Leon Cooper, LaGrange, Georgia, writes: "Coin World to me is one of the most informative pieces of numismatic literature that I have ever read. When I first saw it, the thing that amazed me most was the price and the amount of literature that was in the newspaper."

G. B. Robinson, Victoria, B.C., Canada wants to call your attention to certain facts in the following letter:

"Apparently those of us who supported 'Coin World' from the start have been given the opportunity to renew at the old rates. This is a very sporting offer and a real nice gesture."

Names For Sampling Welcomed

COIN WORLD welcomes any names of numismatists that you feel would like to receive a sample copy of our numismatic publication.

Our sampling program is the quickest and best method of getting acquainted with these prospective subscribers. We will send three consecutive sample copies to any of your non-subscribing collector friends upon receipt of their current addresses.

If it is not too much trouble, just drop us a line with the address. No list is too large or too small. We will check your list against our geographic file to see if they are already subscribers before sending samples.

From Herman L. Boraker, Rocky Ford, Colorado, comes the following quote:

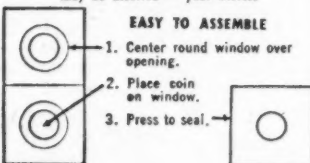

"Money isn't everything . . . but it's way ahead of whatever is in second place . . . I guess that is why I collect it."

Redding Club Plans Display For Window

First project for the Redding Calif., Numismatic Society, formed just a few months ago, is to place a permanent coin display case in the New Shasta Savings and Loan Company window, and details are expected to be discussed at the next meeting of the club, set for Monday, August 14, at the First Methodist Church, East at South Street, in Redding.

A second project for the club is to give opportunity for persons in the area to have old and odd coins evaluated, and through the local newspaper such people are invited to send coin descriptions to the club at Box 1831, Redding.

At the last meeting of the group, 10 new charter members were accepted, and the charter memberships were closed at 67. Only regular memberships are available now, but interested collectors are invited to attend meetings and to apply for membership if they wish.

Looking ahead, the club is already getting ready for next year's National Coin Week, and president F. D. Thompson has appointed Pete Wallinder as chairman of a committee to plan the observance, according to secretary Donna Lee Toenjes.

Collector Protests

A coin collector by the name of Pinkerton yowled loudly at the inferior quality of the English halfpence of George III in 1770. "Such a face.....human being never wore, jutting out something in the likeness of a macaw," he raged.

Part of a hoard of foreign currency, gold and "valuables" seized from Russian speculators.

Russian Speculators Face Death

Russia's Supreme Court has sentenced two "large-scale money speculators" to death before a firing squad.

The pair, Ya. T. Rokotov and V. P. Faibishenko, were members of the nine-man "gang" whose arrest was reported in Coin World of June 16. Their crime was to purchase foreign currency (dollars, pounds sterling, francs marks, etc.) and gold coins, which they resold for a profit.

Rokotov and Faibishenko were first sentenced to 15 years in prison by a lower court. This was the maximum penalty permissible under Soviet law when the crime was committed.

However, the Russian Supreme Court invoked the new Soviet law providing death for "large-scale embezzlers" (Coin World, June 2). In the U.S.S.R., unlike the United States and other western democracies, laws can be applied retroactive. In addition, persons sentenced by a lower court to one penalty may have the penalty increased by the Soviet Supreme Court if the government prosecutor is dissatisfied with the sentence and appeals for more severe punishment.

The speculators' trial was one of the most widely publicized criminal proceedings held in Moscow during recent years. The hoard accumulated by the accused was widely discussed and pictured in the Russian press in an obvious effort to impress on other Soviet citizens the dire consequences which might ensue from possession of foreign currency and gold.

Token Group Will Meet At A.N.A. Session

The first annual meeting of the Society of Tokens, Medals, and Obsolete Paper Money Collectors will take place during the American Numismatic Association convention in the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel, August 18 or 19.

President George Fuld said the tentative time is Friday or Saturday morning in one of the mezzanine rooms, the exact time and place will be posted.

"Probably 50 members will attend this meeting," estimated Fuld. The society just recently passed 500 membership.

Slated for discussion at this meeting are: name change, incorporation, awards, bulletin, and the constitution.

"The name of the society is rather unwieldy," said Fuld. "Several people have suggested changing it to the American Exonumist Society."

"However, we are open for suggestions, and members should give some thought to this before coming to this meeting," said Fuld.

Incorporation plans are underway, said the society's president, with the District of Columbia chosen as the place of incorporation.

Two awards, honoring prominent American collectors, will be given at future A.N.A. conventions, beginning in 1962.

Named after the famed collector and author on the series, the best display in obsolete paper money will win the D. C. Wismer award.

The best token exhibit at an A.N.A. convention will receive the Dr. Benjamin P. Wright award. Dr. Wright was a president of the American Numismatic Association for three years, 1901 to 1904, and a famed collector of tokens.

Recipients of these awards will not necessarily need to be society members, but they were established to encourage members to display tokens, medals, and obsolete paper money, Fuld said.

Discussion of the constitution, and increasing the frequency of the quarterly bulletin, are also on the agenda.

The society plans to hold its future annual meetings in conjunction with the national A. N. A. convention each year.

Ancient And Medieval Club To Be Formed

Ancient and medieval collectors will see a boost to their phase of numismatics at the Atlanta American Numismatic Association convention with the probable formation of an organization for these specialists.

F. J. Windler Jr., 3736 Whitland Avenue, Knoxville, 5, Tenn., is arranging for a discussion session for ancient and medieval collectors with the organization of a club dedicated to the following purposes:

Communication between both collectors and dealers.

Education in the ancient and medieval phase in numismatics.

Promotion of more published articles relating to this subject such as recently appeared by Dr. J. F. Lhotka Jr. and P. K. Anderson.

More publicity on this highly entertaining and relatively inexpensive branch of Numismatics.

The time and place for the discussion will be posted at convention headquarters in Atlanta, Windler announced.

"For some years it has been evident in the United States that collecting ancient and medieval coins has not kept pace with increased number of collectors," the Nashville numismatist pointed out.

He said that in 1958, after a great deal of correspondence, the Numismatic Forum for collectors of medieval and ancient coins was founded with 20 charter members.

Windler and Mrs. Lorraine Davis, Edna, Kansas, have been general secretaries and have attempted to issue a monthly news letter and one article, written by one of the members, on his specialty.

"Although, up until now, no attempt has been made to increase the membership, many of the more prominent numismatists in this country are now numbered among the more than 50 members," said Windler.

Windler has been assisted in making plans for the Atlanta meeting by Edward Gans, Berkeley, Calif., who is a devout student of ancient and medieval coins, as well as a prominent dealer in the field.

They both expressed hope that during the Atlanta convention "enough interest can be generated and sufficient plans can be laid so that a renaissance in the collecting of the older coins can be looked forward to in 1962 and the years to come."

They urged all interested parties to feel welcome to come to the session.

Windler is a tool engineer in Nashville, Tenn., and began collecting coins in 1922. He is a member of the American Numismatic Society and the American Numismatic Association. He specializes in Roman imperial coins and now has portrait coins of 139 different male emperors, tryants, etc., through 476 A. D. He is in the process of publishing in English a description of Roman coins following Cohen's numbers.

German Issues Early Booklet

Johann David Kohler of Nurnberg, Germany, published a regular weekly pamphlet on coins from 1729 to 1750.

In each week's issue he would discuss newly-struck coins of Europe and recent developments in numismatics.

Collectors eagerly awaited the appearance of each issue, indicating that there were many avid numismatists in Germany over two centuries ago.

Kohler's weekly pamphlets have been bound into a series of hardcover volumes and are now collector's items.

Chicago Bank Shows Gold

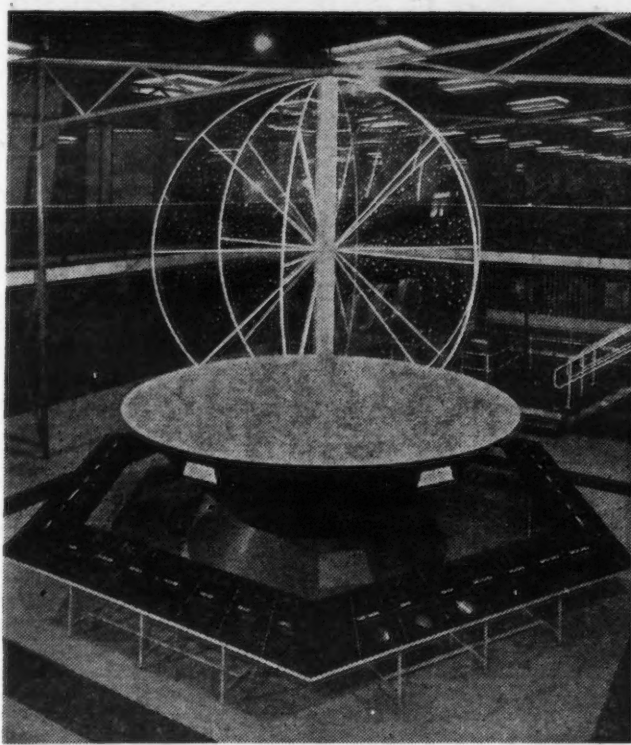

A fabulous international collection of gold coins — over 4,000 gold pieces from 75 countries, valued at $250,000, are presented on a revolving plexiglass "polysphere" as the central display theme of the First National Bank of Chicago exhibit at the 1961 Chicago International Trade Fair, in McCormick Place.

Approximately 70 rare and interesting coins from 41 different countries are highlighted in an hexagonal stationary display stand for close scrutiny by the public. An elegant red brocade serves as a background for the coins, and each plexiglass viewing window is indirectly lighted.

The country of origin is outlined in red on a map of the world above the coin. The current market value and a brief description of each rare coin is also given. Two of the rarest coins exhibited are the 1852 Humbert U.S. $50 piece and a Julius Caesar 1½ Aureus.

The "polysphere", illuminated by 7,000 watts of light, fairly shimmers as it revolves slowly. A 12 foot balcony surrounding the entire exhibit area provides a multi-level view of the gold coins. Operating bank equipment processing actual cash is also featured in the exhibit.

The structure of the First National Bank of Chicago exhibit is as impressive as the gold display. It is composed of structural steel

Origin Of Bill Great Mystery To Collector

By CONRAD TINDELL
Belleflower, Calif.

Much has been written about the mystery of the $10 and $20, Confederate Essay Notes, called by some, and the Enigmatical Issues, by others. About 12 to 15 are known to exist.

Having recently acquired a $20 note of this issue, I believe a short history or background of this note would be of interest to Confederate Note Collectors. Although this will not solve the mystery, at least it is a human interest story of this particular bill.

The party I acquired the bill from is not a collector, in any sense, but on the other hand one whom I can put the utmost trust and confidence in regarding the truth of his acquisition of the bill, and its history. Here is his story:

"In 1885, his father, Dr. James Whelan, a practicing physician, and surgeon, of Dublin, Ireland, was brought together with a Mr. Whelan, of the United States of America. Because of their similarity of their names, even to its spelling, quite a friendship sprung up. Evenings were spent with their mutual hobbies of first editions.

As a token of esteem, at their parting, Dr. Whelan, received as a gift from the gentleman of the United States a $20 Essay Note of the Confederacy. This note I now have in my Confederate Collection.

Was Dr. Whelan's friend an official of the Confederacy who obtained this very rare bill, somehow, somehow, while performing his duties, a hundred years ago? Q.E.D.

Indiana Club May Be Formed

Interest of coin collectors in the North Manchester, Ind., area in forming a coin club was to be explored at a meeting called in mid-July at the Weking's Grill dining room.

Many collectors have been discussing the idea for some time and the purpose of the meeting was to determine whether to make definite plans for the development of a club.

HI FOLKS...

I've really enjoyed writing the last couple of ads. Today I walked into a local coin store. The owner pulled out my ad for July 21 and said "What do you mean, rare medium date 61 proofs? I've had 4 phone calls today." Shows how far a gag can go.

Over the last 2 months or so, I've managed to fill about 95% of all orders. The others have been for mostly one shot items, as late as 6 and 7 weeks after the ad. This makes me feel good.

Think I ought to get up tomorrow morning and watch the astronaut shot? By the time you read this, he'll be ancient history. Anyway, all I have to do is keep on riding on my 1960-D small date cents, and in a few months I'll be in orbit myself. Do you have any. I do!

BU COMMEMORATIVE 50c SET COMPLETE

(Includes Columbian, Stone Mtn., and all the others)

All kidding aside, this is a beautiful complete set of BU U.S. Commemorative half dollars. I sat down and did a little figuring, using both the old book and the new. This set catalogues about $3900.00 in the new book, and about $3320.00 in the 14th Red Book. Now, my price on the complete set is $3095.00. This means you get the Hawaii for $160.00 (old book), etc. Need I say more.

One thing — don't send me a post card and say ship for your inspection. I suggest you either mail me a cashiers' check (absolute satisfaction, or an immediate refund) or CALL me and arrange to inspect it at your bank. 31 bills is not chicken feed..... $3095.00

1863 PROOF SET

(1c, 5c, 10c, 25c, 50c) A nice batch of scarce coins. Unfortunately, they are for the most part not gems, though quite brilliant and attractive. The old gentleman who owned them for many years allowed them to touch together lightly. This rare lot catalogues $307.50, but my usual realistic bargain basement price is

HAWAII CENT

Bright red wire. This coin was struck on a large cent planchet, I believe, and exhibits the same beautiful red-brown color. Unlike most specimens, there are no carbon spots or corrosion. A single bag-scratch spoils an otherwise choice piece.

$109.50

1916 STANDING LIBERTY QUARTER

This coin is G+/F, with a relatively decent date; sharp and high, with only the topmost part of the 6 gone. Got one already? $134.50

BU COIN SETS

These are still the specialty of the house. My margin of profit is surely smaller than on anything else, but there is more satisfaction. I notice that everyone else has for the most part raised their prices well above mine. This is the big advantage of being in the roll business also, as it enables me to buy most of my rolls at wholesale.

Those of you who have limited funds to invest in coins, should consider the advantage of buying a BU set. You get a readily resalable item at roll prices. Any dealer will buy such a set, but only the few roll dealers will buy your rolls.

1960-D SMALL DATE CENTS BU

I had a long phone conversation with one of my serious investor-customers today. His goal is 6 bags 1960-D Sm. Dt. cents, to go with his 1950-D and 1939-D nickels, and his roll sets. He made the statement to me that the boys in the New York area expect this to be the next roll to double in value. Now I have one less bag.

Marietta Club Aids In Planning Atlanta Meeting

Members of the Marietta Coin Club have been helping their Atlanta neighbors prepare for the arrival of the nation's leading numismatists for the American Numismatic Association convention.

The club will sponsor a special tour of Kennesaw Mountain and battlefields on Thursday, starting at 12:30 p.m. There will be 80 tickets available with no charge for those registered at the convention.

The Marietta club, organized by Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Rohner Jr., October 14, 1957, has 32 charter members; on the roll at the present time is 184 regular and junior members.

First session of the club was held in the council room of the Marietta Police Station; the constitution and by-laws were adopted on January 13, 1958.

The club meets the second Monday and the last Thursday of each month at 8 p.m. during the summer and at 7 p.m. in the winter months — still at the Marietta Police Station.

Officers are elected in December and installed at the January meeting. A banquet honoring outgoing and incoming officers is an annual event.

The 1961 officers include Jim Schenck as president; A. C. Carter, vice president; Mrs. Fred F. Rohner Jr., secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Jim Schenck, assistant secretary and treasurer.

The club schedules speakers, slides, junior displays and spirited auctions during its livewire programs throughout the year.

Heath Medal Has Mistake

Donald R. Heath, of Grosse Pointe, Mich., son of the founder of the American Numismatic Association, Dr. George F. Heath, has made a discovery of an error on the Heath medal—he says the date of his father's birth on the Heath medal is September 21, 1850.

"The real date should be September 20, 1850," the Michigan man said.

He believes the misdate came from the Numismatist of July, 1908, where an article by A. B. Bragdon gave the wrong date.

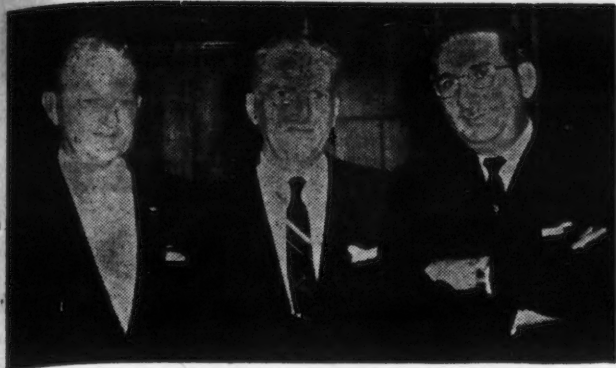

"Yet if you will look in the same issue you will see a page where there is a copy of a city notice of Monroe, Mich., council (my father was mayor there at the time of his death). In that proclamation they have the date correct.

"Mr. Bragdon was the manager of the Record Publishing Co., and printer of The Numismatist at that time," said Donald Heath. "I knew him very well, and evidently he was the cause of it being wrongly stated."

Well, We Tried . . .

Hosts Enlist Weatherman

Chief Weatherman
Atlanta, Georgia

Dear Mr. Weatherman:

For four days this summer, August 16 through 19, almost two thousand numismatic folks from all over the world will attend the 70th annual convention of the American Numismatic Association at the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel. That means "Coin Collectors" to you.

As host club, the Atlanta Coin Club is enthusiastically planning much fun and excitement for our visitors. In addition to usual convention features, there will be many sightseeing tours and fascinating adventures for the guests, including a trip to the Dahlonega gold mines for gold-panning.

Many of these folks will be seeing Atlanta for the first time and, of course, southern hospitality must include the weather, too. At that time Atlanta must sparkle and be bright, sunny and comfortable.

So, Mr. Weatherman, we are placing with you now our order for lovely convention weather. See what you can do, please?

Gratefully and

Prayerfully yours,

Miss Margaret C. McAuley
Publicity Chairman.

Dear Miss McAuley:

I was glad to learn of your plans to hold your convention in Atlanta and certainly hope you have nice weather for it.

While it would be very unethical for me to give you a specific forecast for those days in August, the chances are excellent that you won't have rain on more than one of the four days. While each August is different, we have, over a long period of time, an average of eight days with a thunderstorm during August and ten days with a measurable amount of rain.

Sometimes an evening thunderstorm will cause rain to fall until after midnight when the thunder part of the storm has ended before midnight. This gives two "rain" days with only one "thunderstorm" day. I say the chances are good you won't get rain on more than one of the four August days.

Of course, the thunderstorms normally come in bunches rather than on single days every fourth day, so it might rain every day or we might have a week or ten days at that time without rain.

One point in your favor is that you are having your meeting the latter half of August. July is wetter, normally, than August and September is drier than August. So you should have a better chance of having good weather in the September half of August than you would have in the July half.

On the average we have fifteen days during August with a temperature of 90 or higher and none with 32 or colder. The average daily high is 88.5 and the low 68.7.

All I can say about Dahlonega is that there are more thunderstorms there than in Atlanta, but you'll still have a better than even chance of no rain in Dahlonega.

From some backbreaking experience I've had with panning for gold, I should think you'd welcome a good gullywasher that day! It takes a lot of water to wash away the dirt when panning, and if it rained hard enough, you could do the job standing up.

I regret not being able to send pictures as you asked. I'm eighty-five years old and haven't had a picture made since I was fifty. Since that time the reflection from my long white beard has ruined every picture I've had made.

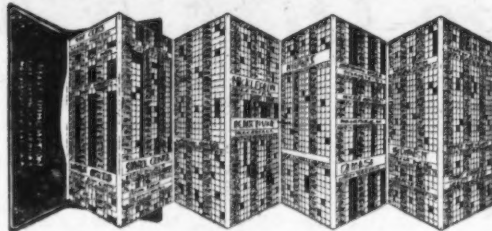

Very truly yours,
J. C. Ballard
Meteorologist in Charge
Weather Bureau

(Note to Editor: I don't believe I know any more about convention weather after reading the above letter than I knew before reading it. Do you understand what the man said?)

I really think this nice weatherman is pulling my leg with that last paragraph of his letter. Maybe I deserve it. . . . you see, I had asked for a picture of him gazing into his crystal ball. M.C.M.)

Member Clubs Boost Usage Of A.N.A. Slides

A record-breaking year for viewing of American Numismatic Association slides is being surveyed by John J. Pittman, of Rochester, chairman of the Visual Education Committee, and Michael M. Dolnick, of Chicago, custodian of the slides.

Last year's total of 362 (the year ending June 30, 1961) was the biggest year in terms of number of viewings in A.N.A. history—the previous year's figure was 286.

To meet the increased demand, extra copies were made of three sets—Coins with Special Significance, U. S. Currency on $5 Notes and Commemorative Half Dollars, according to Visual Education officials.

Work is being completed on a new slide set, "Coins and Early Christianity," written by Dr. John Lhotka, winner of the 1961 Faran Zerbe award.

Most popular set during the year with Coins with Special Significance, followed by Coins of Colonial America and U. S. types.

Highest of praise goes to Pittman for the development of new slide series and the growth of the visual education program.

He in turn praises Michael M. Dolnick who is responsible for the scheduling and loan of the slide series to A.N.A.-affiliated clubs.

Dolnick administers the 50 sets of slides on 22 different subjects, and aids clubs in program planning by recommending suitable slide series and scheduling sets for maximum use of clubs in geographic areas. He, too, has a hand in the production and development of new slide sets as he assists Pittman in the growth of the program. And he sees that the collection is properly housed and maintained.

Dolnick has been employed since 1948 by the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults in Chicago, and is currently director of a nationwide research study on the subject of "Contract Procurement Problems of Sheltered Workshops."

Previous to this he was engaged in the manufacture of toys as one of the owners of Craftall, Inc., Evanston, Ill., and was employed as office and personnel manager for John A. Patton, management engineers.

A graduate of the University of Chicago with B. A. and M. A. degrees in social sciences and social service administration, Dolnick has been a member of the Chicago Coin Club, and served as secretary for two years. At the present time he is first vice president of that club.

He collects broken bank notes in sheets and singles, foreign crown sized coins, historical medals and general U. S. He is a member of the American Numismatic Society, the Central States Numismatic Society and the Society of Token, Medal and Obsolete Paper Money Collectors. His other hobbies in addition to numismatics are tennis and trout fishing.

Coin Care Discussed At Kanawha Club

The proper method of cleaning (if needed) and the proper method of housing of coins was the discussion topic lead by John J. McConihay at the July meeting of the Kanawha Valley Coin Club held in the B'nai Jacob Synagogue in Charleston, West Va.

Several interesting points were brought out during the discussion which was participated in by the fine turn-out of members and guests despite the warm seasonal weather there.

Much information was passed on to the beginners as well as to the advanced collectors. Announcement was made that the club would be willing to exchange views with other clubs on these topics according to McConihay, acting secretary, 4113 Kirby street, South Charleston, W. Va.

A spirited auction concluded the meeting and was highlighted by the selling of a 1909-S VDB Lincoln cent in AU condition which brought a top bid of $80. The sale was conducted by Bud (Knock-em-down) Tomkins, guest auctioneer from the St. Albans, W. Va., Coin Club.

Out of town guests are always welcome to the meetings of the Kanawha Valley Coin Club which meets on the third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the recreation room of the synagogue.

New Texas Reference Bieciuk - Corbin Work

A new reference work, "Texas Confederate County Notes & Private Scrip" has just been completed and released this month. The book, a result of several years of research, was co-authored by Hank Bieciuk of Kilgore, Texas, and Bill Corbin, Tyler, Texas.

Extending to over 100 pages in length, the book on Scrip is profusely illustrated. Over 170 notes, some never previously known or heretofore illustrated, are pictured in this new reference.

In compliance with requests from collectors, each note has been assigned a rarity number and a rarity price table is included in the book.

The rarity price table is somewhat different than that of its predecessors. Recognizing the fact that notes are not always "fine" or "uncirculated", the price range for all rarity numbers is a flexible one.

As an example, a rarity 3 note bears a price range of $7.50 to $12.50. Notes in well worn condition can be priced at the low end of the price scale, while choice condition notes can be priced at the upper end of the price scale.

While every effort has been exercised to keep the quality of the book high, the price of the book has been kept quite low. At a price of only $2.95, it is hoped that this new reference will be added to every numismatic library.

Atlanta Dealer Noted For Hard Work In Many Areas Of Activity

Peachtree Coin Shop and Blaise J. Dantone are synonymous with Atlanta, Ga. — and numismatists attending the American Numismatic Association convention will have an opportunity to visit with Dantone and his swank shop located at 504 Mark Building, corner Whitehall and Alabama Streets.

Dantone became a coin collector in 1952, and in the space of two years acquired a very fine collection of coins including a complete set of Dahlenberg gold.

As a novelty he inserted a few ads in the numismatic publications and became so interested in the hobby that he decided in 1955 to open up a retail coin shop with a close friend, Roy T. Payne of Atlanta. This partnership was dissolved by mutual agreement in 1958, and while his former partner is now a competitor they are still the best of friends and can often be seen lunching together.

It can be truly said that there are many facets to Blaise J. Dantone's life. In addition to the many interests, he has owned and headed the Dantone Construction Company, which has built several hundred homes, a large shopping center, and many store buildings, which now stand as monuments to his ability in this field.

At the present time, he is a principal partner in a syndicate that is now building several hundred apartments in the Atlanta area. It is prophesied that this syndicate will build over 2000 apartment units in the next three years.

In talking to his employees, they will tell you that they have never seen one man who could do so many things at the same time in the short span of a day. This man puts in 12 hours work every day, six days a week. His wife will tell you that he rises at 4:30 a.m. regardless of what time he retires.

Dantone, a native of Atlanta, was born February 15, 1910, to Sarah and John Dantone. His father was a native of Greenwood, Miss., and his mother a native of New Orleans. His grandparents were natives of Cefalu, Sicily, Italy.

He was raised and educated in Greenwood, Miss., with the exception of five years of school education at Marist College, Atlanta, Ga., 1921-25. He attended Emory University, Atlanta Law School in Atlanta, Ga., 1927-33 and was admitted to Georgia bar in 1933 and actively practiced law from 1933-60. Most of his legal practice was as a criminal lawyer.

In 1941, he married the former Lillian Stallings, Bowden Ga. They have one daughter, Sarah Alice Dantone, born October 6, 1941. She is the "apple of his eye" and she has him "wrapped around her thumb," intimates say.

A prominent sportsman, Dantone owned a large automobile racing stable from 1949-52 and was himself actively engaged in sports car racing, having participated in major sports car races and finishing sixth in the nation in 1954 in Class D Production Sports Cars. Blaise Dantone is strictly an outdoor man and as such fishing and hunting are his main interests. He is an automobile enthusiast and is now turning to collecting antique cars.

He loves flowers and the grounds of his home are lavishly planted with over 1000 azaleas and camellias and is a showplace when flowers are in bloom in the springtime.

Communicant of Christ the King Roman Catholic Church, Atlanta, Ga., Dantone is also a member of the American Numismatic Association, Plantation Country Club of Atlanta, Castle View Town & Country Club, Elks Club, Atlanta Bar Association, Georgia Bar Association, Sigma Delta Kappa Fraternity.

He is a past president of the Atlanta Coin Club and honorary lieutenant colonel on governor's staff under Herman Talmadge and currently under Governor Ernest Vandiver.

Members of the Atlanta Coin Club posed for this photograph in 1948. Among the special and honored guests were Founder and Mrs. J. J. Gonzales, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Morris Jr., honorary members. George M. Todd, chairman of the Atlanta American Numismatic Association conven-

Atlanta Club Founded In 1929 By Ten Members

A small group of persons banded together in July, 1929, under the leadership of the late John J. Gonzales, a well-known collector of the time and district governor for the American Numismatic Association to form the Atlanta Numismatic Club.

The original charter members were: John J. Gonzales, now deceased; J. H. Hardwick, now deceased; E. P. Tomlinson, D. R. Sanders, H. A. Alexander, Edwin Harrison, Beverly DuBose, now deceased; Ben DuBose, Edwin P. Morgan, Harry Moses, now deceased.

The name was soon changed to Atlanta Coin Club to make it more easily understood by local persons who might become interested in coin collecting. The organization became a club member of the A.N.A., receiving membership number 4882.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted patterned after the A.N.A. and they remained virtually unchanged until 1946. The club dues were $1 per year and the club met the first and third Wednesdays of each month at 8 p.m. in the Henry Grady Hotel.

With the club forming almost at the start of the depression, it remained relatively small with a steady growth until recent years when it has experienced a phenomenal growth. The paid membership in 1957 was about 85. Current membership is over 200. The influence of the Atlanta Coin Club has probably inspired the formation of several other coin clubs in near-by suburbs and towns in recent years.

The object of the Atlanta Coin Club has been to provide a meeting place for its members and others interested in coin collecting, to encourage more ladies and junior collectors to attend. To encourage activity, quiz contests, coin displays, newspaper and television publicity, articles and pictures of interest in local papers, radio interviews, attendance prizes, and coin week displays have been employed.

In 1946 the by-laws and constitution were changed to meet on the first Wednesday of each month. Dues were increased to $2 and junior members from 14 to 18 years were admitted for $1 per year. At this time all members were assigned permanent numbers based on the time they were accepted into the membership. It was also decided at this time to number the meetings so they could be properly identified.

Amendments to the constitution and by-laws subsequent to this date changed the meeting to Thursday and finally to the second Tuesday of each month. The dues were later raised to $3, and junior members were admitted at 12 years of age for $1.50 per year.

In 1954 the Club issued a set of three wooden nickels commemorating its 25th Anniversary. These nickels were issued in denominations of one, two and five wooden nickels in value.

A number of members have been exceptionally active in contributing to the growth of the Club through serving as officers and members of various committees. Besides Gonzales, J. H. Hardwick and Ernest Brown, until their death, were outstanding members, as was Harry Moses.

Other oldtimers like E. P. Tomlinson, D. R. Sanders, Edwin Harrison, B. E. Surry, Edwin P. Morgan, T. H. Landgraf, George M. Todd, Frank G. O'Rear, Leroy D. Martin . . . along with those who came into the Club later like Annie Harrison, Margaret C. McAuley, Philip S. Reed, Robert C. Davis, Lois Cole, Jackson Bennett, Robert J. Rooks, Roy T. Payne and Blaise J. Dantone. These people have devoted much time in making the Atlanta Coin Club a success.

Current officers are: Roy T. Payne, president; Jackson Bennett, vice president; Mrs. Annie (Edwin) Harrison, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Annette B. Cook, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Membership cards have been furnished free of charge each year to the club by Edwin Harrison, a charter member, and now badges and ribbons chairman for the A.N.A. 1961 convention in Atlanta. Harrison is the designer of the official convention medal for this convention.

George M. Todd, general chairman of the A.N.A. 1961 convention, is immediate past president of Atlanta Coin Club and has served previously for four terms in that office.

Wisconsin Man Markets New Coin Checker

Announcement of a new coin checking machine which has all of the latest features including the ability to show both sides of a coin at the same time is being announced by E. W. Brink, owner of the Never Fail Service, R. R. 2, Wisconsin Dells, Wis.

According to the manufacturer, his machine has a cast aluminum shell with two types of finishes. Depending upon the skill and eyesight of the operator, a collector can process 3,000 coins per hour whether cents or quarters.

After examination, the operator can shift the coins wanted to be kept into a chute which leads into one of three trays according to designation by mint.

When first announced in Coin World last October, the Numiscope manufacturer was deluged with inquiries and has spent the intervening time finishing up his specially required tools and dies needed to manufacture the equipment.

Inventor Brink claims that each machine will be made to order as received and that there is no inventory on the shelf at this time. He is confident that the new equipment will fill a great void in coin collecting. Cost of the Numiscope is $155.00 complete.

He has pointed out that checking coins with a pocket magnifying glass is exceeding slow work and that the Numiscope will take the drudgery out of coin checking.

Ottawa Club Completes Its Officer Slate

Still in the process of organization, the Ottawa, Ill., Coin Club, formed in June, has decided on a permanent meeting date and place, and has completed its slate of officers with the naming of a secretary and treasurer.

Meetings are scheduled for the third Thursday of each month, the next being August 17, to be held in the Board of Supervisors room of the La Salle County Court House in Ottawa, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Elected to the position of secretary was Mrs. William Kirkman, and to treasurer, Kenneth O'Connor. Chosen to an executive committee for grading coins for auction were Harold Zenor, Robert Engel and Alfred Allen.

The club's first auction is set for the September 21 meeting, and members wishing to consign coins are required to bring them to the August 17 session.

At the July meeting, attended by 45 persons, the proposed constitution and by-laws were accepted. On exhibit was a complete set of uncirculated commemoratives owned by Harold Zenor of Ottawa. The August session will be the club's third.

Willy Brandt Coin Collector

Willy Brandt, the courageous mayor of West Berlin, has been a coin collector since boyhood. His specialties are German and Norwegian coins. The Berlin mayor is interested in collecting the coins of Norway because he spent a number of years there while the Nazis controlled Germany.

Dealers in Berlin say that Brandt hasn't been around during the past several years to make purchases because the heavy burdens of his office, but that he's always retained a keen interest in numismatics.

Brink has built the Numiscope in his own tool and die shop near Wisconsin Dells. He has been a coin collector and dealer for many years and has gathered a large collection.

He recently obtained 3,000 Indian Head cents which had laid dormant in a safe deposit box for 25 years.

The cents were coal black when Brink purchased them. He obtained 47 complete rolls of these coins which ranged from 1859 to 1909. In the collection was a very "hard to find" 1908-S.

Texas Club Holds Display

A recent display at the First National Bank of Harlingen, Texas, was composed of a collection of U. S. and world coins under the arrangement of Harlingen Coin Club members.

Included in the exhibit was a complete type-set of United States gold coins and an uncirculated set of the very rare Panama-Pacific gold commemorative coins. These two sets alone are valued at $12,000.

Other items included in the showing were a series of Civil War tokens, an early set of Mexico "reales," a display of old U. S. "saddle blanket" currency and many other items of interest to numismatists and the general public.

Britannia Well Armed

Britannia appears on English coins holding a shield with the Union Jack; in earlier coins she carries a spear.
